GC policeman among 3 who receive the Medal of Valor

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

"Between the citizens and the criminals, there is a thin blue line. It is a pleasure for me to join you in honoring these men today who form that thin blue line," Edwin Meese III, chief policy advisor to President Ronald Reagan, said Tuesday during a ceremony in St. Louis at which three police officers, including Granite City Police Sgt. David Ruebhausen, received the annual Medal of Valor.

At the 16th annual Medal of Valor Ceremony in Mariott's Pavilion Hotel, Sgt. Ruebhausen and St. Louis policemen, Sgt. Raymond Reynolds and Officer Kevin Burgdorf, were presented the medal, joining 112 others who have received the Medal of Valor in the past 16 years.

THE LUNCHEON was sponsored by the St. Louis Crusade Against Crime and the St. Louis Advertising Club. The Medal of Valor is the highest award the St. Louis community bestows on law enforcement officials and civilians for acts of bravery that exceed the normal demands of police service or for citizen aid in fighting crime.

Nominations for the award are made by police chiefs from throughout the metropolitan area.

SGT. REYNOLDS became the first person to win the medal twice. He first won it in 1969 for being wounded while attempting to arrest two fleeing burglars who later were apprehended.

This year, he won the award for rescuing six people, including four small children, from a burning home in February. He was overcome by smoke during the rescue and underwent treatment for smoke inhalation. He also suffered cuts and bruises in the rescue.

Officer Burgdorf, a 10-year veteran, was honored for rescuing two elderly victims of a fire in a multi-family apartment building in South St. Louis last March. He entered the burning building three times before being overcome by smoke and then refused medical attention until the victims had been treated. He later was hospitalized for smoke inhalation.

RUEBHAUSEN was honored for his part in stopping a hostage situation within St. Elizabeth Medical Center Aug. 19, 1983. A woman with a mental problem took two nurses and a patient hostage at gunpoint in the Ketter Center, ripped apart a nurse's station and threatened to kill the hostages or anyone who approached.

Ruebhausen and other officers talked her into releasing two of the hostages. She cocked and leveled the gun at him, threatening him, but he continued talking with her while Patrolman Walter Milton approached her from the back.

When the woman uncocked the gun, held it to her head and turned to reach for a cigarette, Sgt. Ruebhausen ran at her, keeping her attention. She aimed the gun at him, began to cock it and Ruebhausen grabbed the gun just as Patrolman Milton leaped over a desk and helped to subdue her.

GC Steel won't fight tax use

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

The atmosphere between Granite City Steel and the Quad-City area taxing bodies was about that of two camps of armed soldiers awaiting word from the peace talks whether or not to fight—until 9:15 this morning.

Both sides were urging peace this week, but both also were pledging to continue to fight if peace was not reached soon. Then, Wednesday afternoon, Granite City Steel officials began hinting that the war is over. The company has decided not to seek a court injunction to prohibit local taxing districts from spending the taxes paid by the mill, officials confirmed this morning.

GRANITE CITY Steel filed its second installment of 1983 taxes under protest Monday and officials indicated the company was considering seeking a court injunction prohibiting the county collector from disbursing any of the money to the tax districts until the issue was resolved. With $1.8 million involved, such an injunction could have created serious problems for such taxing bodies as the Granite City School District, which already is struggling financially.

A Board of Review hearing to determine the true 1984 assessed valuation of the steel mill was to be conducted yesterday, but has been postponed until December.

GC Steel officials hinted that they will ask the Board of Review for a fairer assessment, in light of their offer to allow their taxes to be distributed without a court fight.

ALREADY pending with the State Property Tax Review Board is the company's protest of its 1983 taxes. The state board is scheduled to meet in February to consider the company's protest of its $963 assessment of $51 million.

While the current dispute began with the company protesting its 1983 taxes, it heated when GC Steel hired its own appraiser who submitted a

Employees are the key to GC Steel profitability—Swanson

"We at National Steel are in a better position than our competitors. As long as steel is made here in the USA, we intend to be making it," Bill Swanson, vice president and general manager of the Granite City Steel division of National Steel Corp. said in his first major public speech since he accepted his new position this summer.

Swanson spoke frankly as he addressed approximately 285 members at the annual Top Management Night meeting of the Granite City Steel Management Club recently. His remarks were released to the public last week.

EARNINGS for 1985 are now projected well below the earlier estimates for the year, Swanson said. Only through efficiency, quality and timely delivery can GCS employees help offset these reductions and remain competitive, Swanson warned.

"For 1984, we are projecting an operating profit of about $60 million.

This is before taxes. While we can all be pleased to some extent with this figure, I should point out that it has been attained largely through the favorable balances from the raw materials divisions. As a matter of fact, Granite City Steel will be $27 million off plan this year and Great Lakes (Detroit) will be even further off.

"We had projected earnings of $90 million for 1984, so you can see that things have not gone well. For 1985, our first estimates were that we would have greatly improved operating earnings. Those estimates are now being revised downward dramatically before we even start the year," Swanson said.

"NONE THELESS, there are many positive indicators. The merger with Nippon Kokan has proceeded smoothly. In one of Kokan's recent publications, Mr. (Haruki) Kamiya (executive vice president of Kokan), who was instrumental in merger negotiations, said that he was confident that Kokan could help bring about a three to five percent increase in throughput yield at National within the next five years and an eventual 10 percent increase.

"While that seems like an ambitious goal and a staggering improvement, Mr. Kamiya made the estimate based upon Kokan's own experience, our potential and the fact that we now have access to Kokan's advanced technology," Swanson said.

The general manager reviewed recent negative developments in the steel industry to help the company's managers understand the importance of improving the company's competitiveness.

MERGERS, both with domestic and foreign producers is changing the competitive situation. For the third quarter of this year, 14 domestic steel manufacturers reported a combined loss of $170 million, an improvement from the $506 million loss in the same quarter of 1983.

"Nineteen-eighty-four was supposed to be a year of recovery and, I guess the fact that losses are lower is some sort of improvement, but certainly nothing to brag about," Swanson said.

Other changing factors include losses of major domestic competitors such as the U.S. and Bethlehem mills losing $6 per ton shipped and LTV losing $16 a ton shipped.

"WHILE WE CAN take some satisfaction at National, with an operating profit of $7 million for the third quarter, we can't believe this is satisfactory. After taxes and disbursement of overhead, the figure drops dramatically. As a matter of fact, our return on investment and our return on assets are virtually zero for the quarter.

"In the steel business, you either go up or you go out. We're only kidding ourselves if we believe that anyone will continue to make the staggering investment steel requires if the returns aren't better than a savings account," he warned.

Swanson also noted that the market for domestic steel is shrinking, on part due to increasing imports and the greater domestic use of aluminum and other alternative materials. Steel shipments, as well as shipments of tractors and other heavy steel equipment, also are dropping.

"SO, THE PRESSURES come from many sources—shrinking markets, increasing imports, alternative materials and declining exports for our customers," he summarized.

"Ironically, at a time of surplus steel capacity in the world, ambitious plans are being laid for steel plant expansions in Latin America and Korea, so we can expect even more vigorous competition in a shrinking market," he added.

Attempting to match imports in price is nearly impossible, he noted. Other solutions must be found, he said.

GC Council OKs enterprise zone

Granite City, Madison, Venice and Madison County have entered into the "home stretch" of a plan that could begin to bring economic development to the area as early as next July.

According to Aaron Ridenour, economic development coordinator from Madison County, the application requesting the establishment of an Enterprise Zone in the Tri-Cities and the county is 95 percent complete.

RIDENOUR COMMENTED on the progress of the application after Granite City aldermen passed an ordinance Tuesday night establishing an Enterprise Zone in Granite City.

According to the county coordinator, what remains to be done on the application includes getting a similar ordinance approved in Madison, Venice and Madison County. Approval also will have to be received from Granite City and Venice school districts concerning temporary tax abatement for industries moving into the zone. The Madison School District has already passed such a measure.

Once these documents are approved, the entities will meet and they will prepare an intergovernmental agreement, along with rules for

Procedures hamper school legislation

Members of 425 school boards have voted overwhelmingly to protest the Illinois legislature's use of so-called "shell bills" to deal with sensitive issues.

Such bills are typically rewritten in the closing hours of the General Assembly session to enact new laws without public comment or open debate, the school officials asserted at their 70th annual conference ending last week in Chicago.

ADHERE TO the state's constitutional requirement that "amendments be germane to the original content of a bill, or that a time limit be established to avoid last-minute changes" that may be contrary to the public's interest or wishes, the Plainfield Board of Education urged.

A considerable amount of legislation adversely affecting schools has been enacted through the use of shell bills which hid the intent of the legislation from all but special interest groups, it was alleged.

The resolutions, adopted by the delegates will form the official policy of IASB, the Illinois Association of School Bonds, a voluntary association of more than 900 Illinois school boards.

THE BOARDS reaffirmed their desire to keep an appointed State Board of Education by voting not to consider a resolution calling for a return to an elected state superintendent of schools.

IASB members supported the change to an appointed State Board more than 10 years ago because they feel the system helps lessen the influence of political party control and special interest groups on educational policy.

The State Board of Education got another vote of confidence from local school board members, who unanimously supported replacing state-imposed program mandates with broadly defined "outcome statements" of what students should know and be able to do as a result of their education.

The school boards also: —FAVORED ALLOWING school boards greater flexibility in making staff assignments, including allowing non-certificated personnel, such as teacher aides, to supervise students when a teacher's judgment is not needed.

—DIRECTED IASB to establish a broad-based task force to examine alternate methods of generating local revenue for public schools and develop a program for legislative action.

—SUPPORTED allowing parents to use credit cards to pay school fees.

WEAPON, DAMAGE CHARGES

Granite City police charged Gerald DeLozier, 58, of 4537 Walter Ave. with unlawful use of a weapon—brandishing a .25-caliber semi-automatic handgun—recently at a 19th and State streets taxicab lot. He had been in a dispute with Robert Arne, who resides in an apartment at 19th and State. The same day, Robert D. Carroll, 20, of 4912 Kirkpatrick Homes was arrested for property damage—using a pipe to smash the windshield of Arner's pickup truck while it was in the 4800 block of Kirkpatrick.

DAV Chapter 53 increases membership

Congress approved a 3.2 percent increase in V.A. disability compensation and dependency and indemnity compensation (DIC) effective on Dec. 1, 1984. Andy Gitchoff told members of Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans, at its monthly meeting. The 3.2 percent increase includes the special statutory award except the "K" award and the increase will appear on the check received in January.

The Constitutional Amendment which would have exempted the property of veteran organizations lost statewide but carried in Madison County by the required 60 percent. "I want to thank the citizens who voted 'yes' on this amendment," Gitchoff said.

Joe Heffery reported that chapter membership recruiters have done an outstanding job in the past month on membership and as of the meeting there is 425, the highest ever for Chapter 53. This is still short of the goal set by National Headquarters of 496 members by December 31st, and 524 members by June 30th, 1985, Heffery said.

Larry Lockhart reported that John Kozak is back in Jefferson Barracks Hospital after a short stay at home. Fred Collins is home following a confinement in John Cochran VA hospital.

Donations were approved for the Granite City High School Band Parents Association and for the Salvation Army Tree of Lights campaign.

Thirty Nine members were inducted into the D.A.V. in a ceremony administered by Department of Illinois Vice Commander, Clint Powers.

Lunch was prepared and served by George Krpan and Harold Menzel.

Local woman joins dentistry practice

Dr. Kim Turner, a 1984 spring graduate of Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine, Alton, is practicing general dentistry with Dr. Bettina Laidley in Enosburg Falls, Vt.

Dr. Turner graduated from Granite City High School North in 1976 and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville (SIUE) in 1980. While at SIUE, she was placed on the dean's list and named in the "Who's Who in American Colleges" publication. She graduated with cum laude honors.

Dr. Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al (Mary) Turner of Granite City. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Sylvia Turner of Granite City.

TWO PASSENGERS HURT AT NAMEOKI-MADISON

Two women passengers sustained minor injuries in an accident last week on Nameoki Road at Madison Avenue, involving vehicles operated by Patricia A. Branch of Glen Carbon and Russell D. English, 2511 Sheridan Ave.

Listed as injured but declining medical attention were Sandra English, 17, of the Sheridan address, a passenger in the English car, and Donna Swigert, 30, of 2813 National Ave., a passenger in the Branch auto.

English was charged with disobeying a red traffic light and is to appear in court Dec. 21.

Nichols tries to clear up 'misinformation' about airport

By SUSANNE INDELCATO
of the Press-Record

Lakeside Airport owner William Nichols told the Nameoki Township Board of Trustees this week that there is a lot of "misinformation" about the airport regarding its proposed sale to Collinsville.

"Collinsville has the inside track because Pontoon Beach, Granite City and the (Tri-City Regional) Port Authority have turned it (purchase of the airport) down," he said.

"I've never talked to Von Dee Cruse in the time that it's been for sale," he asserted.

Cruse, Granite City assessor and a candidate for mayor, announced last week he has been working with an informal committee to study the feasibility of Granite City purchasing the airport, located on Illinois Route 111 south of State Aid Route 35.

"I did talk to (Congressman) Mel Price's office," Nichols told the board. "Mel Price brought the airport to the attention of Collinsville."

COLLINSVILLE IS the first governmental entity to announce that it is considering annexing along State Aid 35 to the airport and purchasing it as a city-owned facility.

Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolch made the announcement at a meeting of Madison County mayors in early November.

"The airport is for sale," Nichols said Monday night, "and I do have another party interested in it. Collinsville can get the whole thing for $50,000. So could Pontoon Beach."

"I don't give a damn who gets it. I'm just interested in getting out of it and selling it to anyone who comes along," Nichols continued. "I would like to see it maintained as an airport. I think it has a lot of future."

NAMEOKI TOWNSHIP Collector Norman Hall has voiced concern over the airport to a governmental body. He has told the trustees that if Granite City buys and annexes the airport, Nameoki Township would lose the real estate tax revenue there because Granite City is a co-extensive city-township.

If Collinsville acquired the property, he added, Nameoki Township could retain the airport tax-base because Collinsville is a municipality not linked with a specific township.

Nichols has threatened to "plow the thing up and close it (the airport)" because of what he describes as a 400 percent increase in property taxes in the past year.

STATE OFFICIALS have expressed a desire to keep the airport open because of its proximity to the downtown St. Louis area and its accessibility.

Grants totaling 95 percent of the cost of buying the property and making certain improvements are available to governmental agencies considering taking over the airport, state officials have noted.

Nichols says he tried to get Granite City or Pontoon Beach interested in applying for grants, but neither showed much interest.

THE FUTURE of the airport was said to be in doubt until Mayor Brombolch made his announcement that the airport may be part of a plan to double Collinsville's size by expanding west along State Aid 35 from Route 157 to Route 111. That expansion also could include the Arlington Heights subdivision, as well as the airport, he said.

Lakeside Airport currently has two runways, the longest being 3,200 feet. If it is lengthened to 4,000 feet, corporate jets could land there for quick, easy access to numerous corporate headquarters in St. Louis, the owner says.

Nichols reports that adjoining landowners may be interested in selling land for a runway extension.

Vehicles are target in Rte. 3 incidents

James Mason, 2427 Madison Ave., told Madison police during the weekend that while driving north of Route 3 near the railroad underpass, a station wagon drove past his Ford van and a gunshot struck the van's sliding door window.

Also during the weekend, Ernest Withers, 2701 W. 22nd St., reported to Venice police that his daughter, Melinda Morgan, was driving his car north on Route 3 near Bissell Street when a shot was fired at the vehicle, causing a hole in the chrome near the front wheel well.

A Venice police report also noted the windshield was shattered and a front panel was dented on the 1976 pickup truck of Steve Dumont, 3313 Edward Place, while he also was driving north on Route 3 near Bissell Street. The report was received a few minutes after the Withers incident. However, it was undetermined if thrown rocks or a gunshot caused the damage.

About the same time, Pam Thompson, 2029 Bryan Ave., heard a loud noise, sounding like a gunshot, at the side of her 1977 Buick while driving north on Route 3 at Bissell Street. She drove to the Venice Police Department where four or five dents were noticed on the passenger door.

Venice officers searched the area without finding the culprit after the reports were made.

TWO ARE INJURED IN JOHNSON ROAD MISHAP

Scott R. Knight, 19, of 4047 Kathy Drive, Pontoon Beach, was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident and not having a valid driver's license during the weekend when his auto allegedly struck two parked vehicles in the 3300 block of Johnson Road.

According to reports, Knight took his eyes off the road momentarily while driving south and struck the auto of Lisa R. Crippen Gay, 3533 Johnson Road, pushing the car into a parked truck belonging to Randy W. Gay of the same address.

Knight sustained an injury and was released on notice to appear for a hearing. Also hurt was Lisa A. Winchester, 17, of 2224 Woodlawn Ave., a passenger in Knight's auto.

SEMC class offers holiday gift ideas

St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Dieticians have come up with a class that will give participants a wealth of ideas for holiday gifts to taste.

The program, called "Holiday Gifts from the Kitchen," is a two-hour presentation full of food gift ideas. During the presentation, Linda Howell, a registered dietitian from the medical center staff, will demonstrate recipes, offer tips on how to pack items for mailing, and show participants ways to dress up gifts with festive packaging ideas.

Each participant will receive a booklet containing more than 30 recipes. All of these recipes, from almond fruitcake to edible Christmas cards, are quick and easy to prepare. For non-cooks, there are "no-cook" recipes for treats such as holiday cheese balls and picnic packages. Samples of several of the recipes will be available for participants to taste.

"Holiday Gifts from the Kitchen" will be presented on Thursday, Dec. 6, from 10 a.m. until noon and from 6:30 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. To register for one of these sessions, interested persons may call Nancy Wargin at 798-3157. There is a $10 registration fee.

TRESPASS TO GCS PROPERTY ALLEGED

Receiving a report from an engineer of a man almost struck by a train in the mill yard at Granite City Steel, security personnel pursued the individual through the yard, catching him near the guard house at 20th and Ninth streets.

Arrested this week and charged with criminal trespass to property was Albert M. Yount, 23, of 2012 E. 24th St. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

Medal of Valor

There were no shots fired and no one was injured.

AFTER RECEIVING the Medal of Valor, Ruebhausen said he shares the award with all of the officers on the afternoon shift, particularly Milton. "Without their backup, the incident wouldn't have come out that way. Most of us work together on such disturbances. Officer Milton also should be particularly recognized," Ruebhausen said.

"It was a very impressive ceremony," Ruebhausen added. "Channel 2 anchorman Larry Connors was master-of-ceremonies for the event, which attracted about 250 persons. Connors challenged all officers in the region to 'be strong and be ready to fight bravely for our cities.'"

THE MEDALS were awarded individually to each officer before television cameras from throughout the area. Each officer's police chief put the medal around the officer's neck, and Connors read the achievement which earned each officer the honor. Granite City Chief of Police Ronald Veizer placed the medal on Ruebhausen.

On hand to watch the ceremony were Ruebhausen's wife, Denise, his parents and in-laws and his grandmother.

Meece, President Ronald Reagan's chief policy advisor who has responsibility for administration of the Cabinet, as well as policy development, planning and evaluation, was the chief speaker. Meece is a member of the Cabinet and the National Security Council and has been nominated by the president as a candidate for attorney general of the United States.

MEESSE SAID President Reagan, when told where Meece would appear today "told me personally that he supported the programs such as this that honor the heroes of our nation. We need heroes," Meece said.

Meece noted that while protection from crime is primarily the job of state and local law enforcement agencies, the federal government is playing an increasing role in providing assistance and support for those agencies.

The federal role, he said, is to control international and interstate crime, to provide a central national center for research and law enforcement information, to offer specialized training and support for state and local agencies and to improve the cooperation and coordination between the various law enforcement agencies of the land.

THE WAR against drugs has been expanded to allow not only federal law enforcement intervention, but use of the military for additional manpower and such hardware as satellites, radar, planes, helicopters and other military equipment.

3 CHARGES AFTER 3:15 AM ACCIDENT ON PARKING LOT

Mark S. Buster, 22, of 2581 Spaulding Ave. was arrested at 3:15 a.m. Friday for possessing 10 cannabis cigarettes, driving while under the influence of alcohol and failing to reduce speed to avoid colliding with the rear of a parked car owned by Steven Hall, 4630 Maryville Road, on a store parking lot at Niedringhaus Avenue and Benton Street.

There was damage to the front of Buster's auto, which witnesses alleged was driven from gasoline pumps toward the parked vehicle without brakes being applied. He was released at 4:40 a.m. on $204 bail.

"For the first time in two decades, we are starting to make real progress," Meece said, adding, "For the first time, young people are showing a decrease in drug use."

He said the military and the law enforcement agencies, working together, have formed "a virtual blockade in the northern part of the Caribbean to prevent marijuana and other drugs from being imported into the U.S."

THROUGH the work of the National Institute of Justice Research and the National Center for the Analysis of Violent Crime, the federal government is developing such things as new lighter materials for bullet-proof vests, profiles and communications to identify and track serial killers and a network to gather ideas and techniques from law enforcement agencies throughout the nation "to share that information with the law enforcement being done locally," he said.

Basically, he said, the federal government is providing "the necessary backup to the local officers who are doing such a good job at the local level."

The national crime rate has declined during 1982 and 1983 and, from all indications, will decline again in 1984, Meece said.

HE CRITICIZED judges giving stiffer prison sentences, better police work, stronger state laws, particularly those setting penalties for crimes involving guns or drugs, and the fact that the population in the age group of 15 to 28, where the crime rate normally is higher, is decreasing.

"As long as we have families in fear of crime, we have to continue our efforts to support police officers in their work and provide the support they need."

"The courts are now balancing the needs of society along with the rights of the criminals. One of the most important tasks that we share is to insure that those who are making the decisions know and remember that criminals must be held responsible for their acts," Meece said.

HE PRAISED local police agencies for "increased professionalism, despite limited resources and cited the assignment of specialized officers to investigate specific crimes. More officers are specializing in such crimes as arson, burglary, rape and other crimes, he noted, and the assignment of specialized and trained officers to investigate those crimes is reaping benefits, Meece noted.

He said, "It is a pleasure for me to join you today in honoring these fine officers, who exemplify by their heroic actions the finest tradition of their profession."

Second round of bids opened for police cars

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler Tuesday night opened a second round of bids for five police package vehicles to be bought by the city.

The second advertisement for the cars did not include bid specifications from the local police. Four bids were received and opened. The first was from John Novotny Chevrolet, which bid $51,106 for five Chevrolet Impalas. This price includes an upfitting of the cars as per the original specifications, minus the trade-ins.

The second and lowest bid was from Dave Croft Chrysler of Collinsville of $46,597, minus the trade-ins. Croft has been awarded the state police car contract for 1985, so he is able to offer discounts to other departments because of the large volume of the purchase.

A third bid was received from Granite Chrysler Plymouth, which is offering a price of $51,032 for five Dodge Diplomats, minus trade-ins. The last bid submitted was from Koetting Ford, which offered a bid of $54,082 for five LTD Crown Victorias, minus trade-ins.

All of the bids include an equipment changeover, except the bid from Dave Croft Chrysler.

The bids were referred to the police committee for their review and recommendation back to the council.

Employees are the key

The Kokan merger is one step in that direction. "You will be interested to know that the cost per ton of hot rolled steel delivered to this country by Nippon Kokan is below our production costs, and significantly so," he noted.

THE OUTLOOK for GC Steel is positive, however, if employees commit themselves to excellence. "At Granite City Steel, expenditures of $60 million in 1985 are planned. The future projects include casters improvements, ladle metallurgy and iron ladle desulfurization."

"However, I should point out that spending alone doesn't guarantee success. Properly managed expenditures should offer a high return on the investment. The key phrase is 'properly managed.'"

"You might be interested to know that $450 million was expended at Weirton Steel the five years prior to its divestiture (National subsequently sold Weirton to its employees). That $450 million only generated $225 million in returns. Yet, that decision to make such investments was based upon National's best analysis and consideration," Swanson said.

"IN MANY instances, we spend a dollar to get 50 cents. That's a good way to work into a Chapter 11 bankruptcy. Our margins are so low that a few bad guesses can wipe out the profits on many tons of shipments," he warned.

"Let's look again at what our business is—the manufacture of steel with high quality, good appearance, delivered on time at a competitive price. We are falling short in each area. Our quality costs are edging up and our complaints are up. On-time delivery is currently only 67 percent. We are overspending and we are not meeting the cost commitments we say we can make," he added.

Arrest Venice pair in credit card case

Charges connected with use of a credit card were filed at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday against a man and woman from Venice, following an incident at the K-Mart store, 3654 Nameoki Road.

Arrested were Antonio M. Brown, 20, of 51 Lee Wright Homes, and Abbey S. Smith, 20, of 1020 Market St., both of Venice, who were charged with receiving the credit card of another.

Brown also was charged with entering information on a record of charge (signing for a credit card purchase).

Officers went to the stereo department of the store where the couple allegedly attempted to purchase a $480 stereo.

The credit card was issued through the Mercantile Bank of St. Louis to another person, it was alleged.

MAN SLUMPED OVER WHEEL IS CHARGED

Receiving a report of a man slumped over the wheel in a pickup truck in the 2100 block of Madison Avenue last week, an officer went to that location and alleged finding William A. Krug, 49, of 76 Holiday Mobile Home Park, in the vehicle.

The engine was running and a partially full bottle of liquor was inside the pickup, reports alleged.

Krug was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol and driving with an expired license. He was released upon posting a $52 cash bond.

Collinsville mayor doesn't want controversy over airport

By JUDY TAPLIN
Collinsville Mayor Gene Brombolch says he would not be upset if the Tri-City Regional Port Authority or Granite City wound up acquiring Lakeside Airport on Illinois 111. "I don't want it to be a controversy," he told reporters Wednesday. Brombolch said the important thing is that the air space is retained, no matter who takes over the airport. Collinsville's own interest in the airport was made public recently when it was disclosed that city officials had met with the state Division of Aeronautics and were putting together some preliminary information. More recently, Von Dee Cruse, a mayoral candidate in Granite City, said he is actively supporting acquisition of the airport for that city. And last week, the Granite City council voted to study the idea of obtaining the airport. Brombolch had been under the assumption that "Granite City was not interested in the airport. He said he had not sought out the airport's owner, Bill Nichols. Rather, he said, Bill Horstman of Mel Price's office had come to him with the proposal that Collinsville take over the airport. Nichols told reporters recently that he had decided to plow up the airport, but that the Division of Aeronautics is very interested in retaining the air space by having some governmental unit acquire the airport. Brombolch said the airport won't be available five years from now, and in the interest of retaining the air space, Collinsville is proceeding currently as though it is not in competition with anyone. But if Granite City ends up acquiring the airport, he'll ask how Collinsville can help, Brombolch said. Brombolch said he was sending a request to the state this week for funding of an airport layout plan. A firm would be hired, at no cost to the city, to draw up the plan. The plan would take about a year to complete, he said. Approximately two months from now, the mayor wants to have the Collinsville city council meet with representatives from the Division of Aeronautics.

After that, he would ask the council whether it wishes to proceed with plans for the acquisition. If it did, the planner would be hired. In the meantime, he said, it is important to explore ways Collinsville could fund its five percent of the costs without using city monies. The city has been told that the federal government would pay 90 percent of the airport's cost and the state five percent if the facility is owned and operated by a governmental unit. The airport, which now has limited use and is classified as a restricted landing area, is on 150 acres owned by Nichols.

More acreage is available in the area for an industrial park, which the mayor has said might be part of the plan. Horstman, who recently became Price's district representative and who is also Nichols' brother-in-law, says the airport would be ideal for Collinsville, with its convention center and other development. He said Nichols has tried to get Granite City to take over the airport in the past, but that no interest was shown. Granite City did make a study of the proposed acquisition at one time, he noted. If the 150 acres was sold for $1 million, the federal government would put up $800,000 and the state $50,000, leaving $50,000 for the city to raise, he noted. Horstman said he takes exception to published reports which quote Von Dee Cruse as saying U.S. Senator-elect Paul Simon has been involved in looking to obtain the airport for Granite City. Simon has never contacted Nichols about Lakeside Airport, Horstman said. "This Von Dee Cruse-Simon thing is a lot of hogwash. If Collinsville gets the airport, it'll be through Price, no one else," he added.

Trustee objects to lack of roll call vote

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record
Nameoki Trustee Helen Hawkins has objected to the minutes from a special meeting of the Nameoki Town Board of Trustees on Nov. 19, charging that a roll call vote should have been taken on the appointment of M. Dell Whitsett to the board. During a regular meeting of the board Monday, Mrs. Hawkins said the minutes from the special meeting inaccurately stated that she had abstained from the voice vote concerning the appointment. "I DID NOT vote because the voting went on so fast," she claimed. "I want to make it clear that I did not vote. In the future, we should go by a roll call vote. I lost my chance to vote."

Mrs. Hawkins requested that the minutes be changed to read that she did not vote, instead of stating that she abstained. Trustee Joe Garcia recommended that the board discuss it with township attorney Irvin Slate Jr. before changing the minutes. The minutes were then approved with the condition that they be changed, depending on the attorney's opinion on whether she abstained or didn't vote at the earlier meeting. Mrs. Hawkins cast the only dissenting vote on approval of the minutes.

IN OTHER business Monday, the board approved bills. Included were $55,000 in tax anticipation warrant payments. Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said $20,000 was taken from the town fund, $20,000 from the special hard road fund, $10,000 from the road and bridge fund and $5,000 from the municipal retirement fund in order to retire some of the outstanding warrants. Garcia presented an itemized expense statement from Briggs related to his trip to the Township Officials of Illinois meeting in Springfield.

ingfield during the week of Nov. 11. The expenses totaled $432 and the township had allowed only $300. Garcia indicated Briggs will be responsible for the remaining $132. Mrs. Hawkins asked the supervisor whether he brought back receipts for his expenses. "I've always been against township conventions," she said. "I just request that you bring back receipts." No receipts were submitted. IN A UNANIMOUS roll call vote, the board approved purchase of the township office's present telephone system. Briggs told the board that AT&T will allow the township to purchase the phone system for $1,599, with an optional payment of $24.25 per month for maintenance. Currently, he added, the township pays almost $1,000 a year for rental of the telephone system. Briggs said plans call for telephones on the same system to be installed in the highway department.

BOY, 13, IS INJURED AT 24TH & WASHINGTON
Charles Hozian, 13, of 2432 Iowa St., suffered an injury at 4 p.m. Tuesday when he allegedly ran from the rear of a Bi-State bus at Washington Avenue and 24th Street into the path of an auto. The boy, who was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, reportedly had just alighted from the bus. Vicki R. Dillard, 35, of 2928 Fortune Drive, said she tried to brake her vehicle, but skidded on the wet pavement.

A section of the dashboard was torn out and the ignition was damaged on a Ford van belonging to Triangel Vending Co., 3325 Village Lane, while the vehicle was parked in the 2000 block of Illinois Avenue. Cathy Smith, who reported the incident at 12:05 p.m. Tuesday, said a total of $500 was taken from the locked van, which was entered by prying open a window.

Tentative pacts calls for raises for Venice teachers

By RACHEL NEWSOME
of the Press-Record
Disclosed at the Venice School Board meeting Monday night, negotiating committees consisting of teachers and board members have reached a tentative contract agreement. In a closed session following the board's regularly-scheduled meeting, the salary portion of the two-year contract was ratified. The contract states that each teacher will receive a $350 increase in salary this year. In addition to this increase, a $150 "lump sum" payment will be made to each teacher by July 26, 1985. In the salary statement for the 1985-86 school year, the teachers will receive another increase amounting to $1,100. According to Superintendent of Schools Robert Vickers, after word clarifications the remaining portions of the contract will be approved at a future date.

Aaron Ridenour, Madison County Community development coordinator, gave a presentation on an Enterprise Zone resolution, a primary topic of interest for the Quad-City area. This resolution proposes a four-year property tax abatement in Granite City, Madison and Venice for any new or developing industry in the area. "The purpose of this proposal is to designate a geographical area designed to attract industry," explained Ridenour.

Briarcliff drainage project awarded

Granite City aldermen awarded a contract for the connection of the Briarcliff retention pond and the North, Granite Tuesday night. The contract went to C.D. Peters Construction Co. of Granite City. According to Acting City Engineer Ed Schulze, the project will involve piping the water from the Briarcliff pond down to the North Granite area, where the water holding facility is ten times the size of the one in Briarcliff.

SCHULZE also added that the bottom of the North Granite pond is made of sand, so it adds to the capacity of the drain. "It's like a big sink without a plug in it," he said, to demonstrate the effects of a sand bottom. The project, which will cost $82,875, will be funded by Community Development grant monies. Schulze said he expects the work to be done in two to three months, depending on the weather.

and supported continuing attempts to have the assessment of the plant determined by Real Estate Analysis Corp. (REAC) of Chicago, which has been hired by the school board to reassess the mill's value. In a formal announcement this morning, the company said that it does not plan to take any legal action to bar the distribution of its protested taxes and pledging that the company will hire "an appraiser of the highest professional quality" to reassess the mill. The statement also pledged that Granite City Steel will discuss the assessment issue with local taxing bodies and work toward reaching agreement on an equitable value for the mill.

The assessed property evaluation already present remains, but if new business or industry develops, the abatement would apply. "The citizens are the ones that deserve the abatement, not a big business. I can't see how it is going to help Venice," retorted Alvester Salmon, board secretary. "It's a gamble either way, but maybe it's something we can gain from," urged Wilbert Glasber, board president. Pending further information and clarification, the board tabled discussions until the next meeting. In other business, requisitions made and approved included computer furniture for the school board office, service on typewriters and nurse's aide packages for Venice-Lincoln Technical Center. The board's next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 17, at 7 p.m. in the School Board offices.

GC Steel won't

proposal to Granite City Township's tax assessor contending that the property should only be assessed at $19 million. The discrepancy between the steel company's figures and the local assessors widened further when the Madison County Board of Review met Nov. 13 and proposed increasing the mill's assessment by $33 million, to a new 1984 assessment of $84 million. A final hearing on that proposal is tentatively scheduled for Dec. 3.

GC STEEL offered last week to settle the dispute if the Quad-City taxing bodies would agree to freeze the 1984 assessment at the 1983 level of $51 million. The Granite City School Board met Nov. 20, voted unanimously to reject the settlement decision making. At that time, a zone administrator will be selected. RIDENOUR said he feels confident that the governments will be able to agree on a plan, in light of the cooperation shown by the groups so far.

Council OKs zone

He said once these things are accomplished, the application will be submitted to the state for approval. Up to, but not more than, eight applications in the state will be selected for the Enterprise Zone designation. Ridenour said he feels the area has a very good chance of being one of the zones selected. "I'd certainly like to think we would be seriously considered," he said.

RIDENOUR said that if the area is selected, the designation will begin on July 1, 1985. If approved, the joint venture will attempt to market prime industrial property, vacant and under-utilized buildings in the zone, increase the number of jobs available in the zone, assist businesses to locate or expand in the zone and increase the tax base of local units of government. The zone will include all of the city of Madison, most of the city of Granite City and about one-third of the city of Venice. According to Ridenour, the total square miles of the zone is 9.75.

THE LIMIT for the zone is 10 square miles, however, these boundaries may be increased after the zone has been in operation for one year. At that time, Ridenour said the area will be expanded to 13 square miles. The new boundaries will include the entire city of Venice. Ridenour said the Enterprise Zone also will add to the livability of the zone as well as the industrialization of it. Under the homesteaded section of the plan, the city may sell a residence to an individual for a maximum price of $100. The individual must agree to renovate or remodel the home and must live in the residence for seven years. After that time, the city will assign the title of the property over to the individual.

He admitted that the administrative organization will have its work cut out. "There will have to be a lot of recordkeeping done by the zone administrator and some stern decisions will have to be made for this to work," he said.

No re-election effort in Eberhart's future

Chouteau Township Highway Commissioner Wilfred "Bud" Eberhart has announced that he will not seek a third term in the April elections.

Eberhart, 62, told the Press-Record that he is quitting the post after the elections because "it's getting to be a difficult job. It's difficult to please the people with the amount of money we have, and it's more difficult with the tax monies coming in late."

Eberhart was elected to his first term as highway commissioner in 1977, and was re-elected to the post in 1981.

In addition to his responsibilities as highway commissioner, Eberhart is employed as a maintenance supervisor at the Madison County maintenance garage. He says he plans to retire from that job sometime next year.

"I'd like to thank the people who have helped me in the past," Eberhart commented, noting the help he has received from township officials, his foreman and crew during some severe winters. "I wish the next highway commissioner the best of luck, and I will help him in any way I can. I just feel like it's time to step down."

Eberhart, a lifelong resident of the Quad-City area, attended Mitchell School and Granite City High School. He is an overseas veteran of World War II.

BUD EBERHART

He served four years as Chouteau Township trustee and seven years as township constable. He was a member of the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department for 20 years, once serving as president of the Mitchell Fire Protection District.

Eberhart and his wife, Betty, are the parents of four grown children.

Suit over road ownership to go to court next week

By SUSANNE INDELICATO of the Press-Record

Nameoki Township resident Bill Nichols told the Township Board of Trustees Monday night that his civil lawsuit against the township and former Highway Commissioner Frank Mehelic will "go to court next week."

Nichols is seeking a circuit court decision as to the ownership of Mueller Road in southern Nameoki Township. Nichols has charged that he has been deprived of use of the road, which leads to a site on which he had proposed to create catfish ponds.

MEHELIC DENIED hauling privileges on that road by enforcing a load limit on it in August 1983. It was asserted. Nichols maintains that the load limit kept him from hauling out a significant amount of dirt, which he described as a necessity in construction of ponds.

Now, Nichols told the board, he will not be able to build the catfish ponds. "I lost my customers because of the closing of the road. But it will be developed otherwise," he said.

Nichols told the Press-Record he wants a jury to decide whether the road belongs to him or the township. He claims that the road is listed on his property title, and that there is no note of a transfer of the road to the township.

SINCE LEE ADAMS took over as highway commissioner last month,

Nichols added, the road has been reopened to him. But, he says, that does not do him much good.

"Meanwhile, I've lost the fellow who was going to dig the dirt for me. After two years, you get older, and you don't want to do the things you wanted to do two years ago," he commented.

But if the court determines that the road is, in fact, owned by the township, Nichols wants the township to take full responsibility for it. He asked the Nameoki Township Board to extend the road another three-quarters of a mile.

BOARD MEMBERS said the court could determine that the road is within the jurisdiction of Madison County. If so, Trustee Joe Garcia asked, "Who would foot the bill (for extending the road)?"

Garcia said the township road commission and the township, itself, cannot afford to extend it. Township Supervisor Harry Briggs said that if the road belongs to the county, the county could deed responsibility for the road to the township. "We don't have the money to extend the road three-quarters of a mile. Maybe the county does," he said.

THREE CAR TIRES SLASHED Glen Whitener of 215 Webb St., Venice, told police earlier this week that someone slashed three tires on his 1978 Mercedes Benz.

Venice woman beaten and robbed by man

Neidra Matthews of the Lee Wright Homes, Venice, told police during the weekend that she was standing at Weaver and Calhoun streets talking with a man when another man walked up and snatched her purse.

The woman said the man started looking through the purse and searching her pockets, saying that she owed him money. She was holding $80 in her hand, she told police, and the assailant began twisting her wrist and struck her face with his fist.

At this point, Miss Matthews was forced to let go of the money and he took all the cash except $1, which fell to the ground, she advised police.

AIR COMPRESSOR GONE

A hole was cut in a back porch screen and a grey air compressor valued at $300 was stolen, Alfred Tomney, 2624 Madison Ave., reported early this week.

DUI actions

Recent arrests for allegedly driving under the influence of alcohol include:

Terry R. Wallace, 37, of Waterloo, Ill., was arrested by Madison Police at 1615 Sixth St., Madison.

Christopher J. Rago Jr., 32, of 1547 Sixth St., Madison, arrested on Fishing Road at Bradley Avenue last week after a patrolling officer alleged seeing a vehicle being operated in an erratic manner by swerving into the oncoming traffic lane and forcing several autos to pull over to avoid a collision.

Rago agreed to take a breathalyzer test and also was charged with reckless driving and failure to have a valid driver's license. He is to appear in court Dec. 2.

Bruce E. Dukes, 22, of 3901 Oakmont Drive by Pontoon Beach police. He also was charged with driving with suspended license and no valid registration.

Ronald Burke, 47, of 4037 Oakmont, arrested last week on Route 111 north of Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach.

Leland W. Mathes, 30, of 2141 E. 24th St. He was charged after the car he was driving north on Briarview Drive failed to make a turn, traveled across the street and ran into the dwelling of Lester Withers, 146 Briarview Drive, causing damage.

A breathalyzer test was administered by Pontoon Beach Police Sergeant Harold Denham and Mathes was released after posting a $300 cash bond.

Drivers' licenses revoked for convictions of driving under the influence of alcohol include:

Estela Allen, 30, of Rural Route Two, Box 7123. She was arrested Aug. 18, 1984.

Drivers' licenses suspended for implied consent related to take a breath alcohol test include:

Earl L. Luehmann, 30, of 4524 Edwardsville Road. He was arrested Aug. 5, 1983.

Final days for Ill. tax amnesty

The state tax amnesty program is in its final days and the Illinois Department of Revenue is extending its business hours to accommodate delinquent taxpayers in filing amnesty applications.

State Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson said, "More than $14.1 million was collected during the first six weeks of the program. This represents 4,933 applicants. The program is beginning to draw to a close and I urge delinquent taxpayers to take advantage of this one-time-only offer."

"After the amnesty period expires Nov. 30, tough new penalties will be enforced, so it is to taxpayers' advantage to settle their accounts now."

"As an example, failure to file an Illinois income tax return will become a felony, punishable by up to five years in prison and fines of up to $10,000."

The single biggest payment to date is $20,880 from a Nebraska firm. The smallest payment so far, 67 cents, was received from an Illinois nursery.

Johnson related, "One nut business requested to pay its taxes in peanuts. However, our tax collector refused the offer, saying the bill had to be paid in certified walnuts or by check." The taxpayer paid the $16,657 in sales tax due the state.

The tax amnesty, which began Oct. 1, offers individuals and businesses an opportunity to clear up past tax debts without fear of prosecution. In addition, the program saves the taxpayer penalty charges and half the interest which otherwise would have been due.

Any person or business who owes

MAN IS CHARGED WITH UNLAWFUL WEAPON USE Earl T. Mosley, 73, of 707 Bissell St., Madison, was arrested at Fourth Street and Lincoln Avenue last week and was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and failure to possess a Firearm Owner's Identification (FOID) card.

Mosley was allegedly driving a vehicle without lights north on Fourth Street. His car then allegedly made a U-turn and was pulled over by police. Officers allegedly observed a revolver in Mosley's back pocket.

Mosley was released on $204 cash bail.

WARRANT IS SERVED

Jerry R. Butler, 28, of East St. Louis, was arrested at 123 Garechse Homes, Madison, last week. He was served with a warrant alleging failure to appear-failure to pay a charge for criminal damage to property.

ARREST 2 WOMEN ON DISORDERLY CHARGES

Connie E. Farley, 27, of 2235 E. 23rd St., and Vanessa K. Wallace, 17, of 1721 Sycamore St., were both charged with disorderly conduct last week. Mrs. Farley also was charged with driving while her license was suspended.

The pair was in a vehicle that allegedly struck the bumper of an auto operated by Lori Parker of the 2100 block of State street, who stopped an officer outside police headquarters and alleged being harassed by the occupants of the vehicle that had been following her car. An auto driven by Mrs. Farley passed by the station while information was being taken from Miss Parker and the car was stopped at 23rd Street and Grand Avenue. Two male passengers were released without charges.

CAR TIRE PUNCTURED

Kevin Rogers of 23 Grunzner Homers, Madison, told police last week that the right rear tire of his 1976 Ford was punctured by a nail.

YMCA board votes to order equipment for Nautilus center

The Board of Directors of the Tri-City YMCA voted Tuesday morning to purchase 14 units of Nautilus workout equipment to be installed on a portion of YMCA which is to be extensively remodeled.

Approximately $15,000 has been contributed by various businesses for the remodeling and it is hoped the equipment can be purchased primarily through the sale of $1,000 charter lifetime memberships to the center.

Eleven charter memberships have been sold, thus far, and Jerry Swatling, executive director of the YMCA, said he is hopeful that the actual ordering of the equipment will encourage others to join. A charter membership to the Nautilus includes lifetime membership to the YMCA with only a small annual maintenance fee.

"For $1,000, you get a lifetime Nautilus membership and use of all YMCA physical facilities, a real bargain," Swatling said. He noted that low-interest financing is available for charter members. Persons joining for one year only, rather than through the charter membership plan, will be charged $300 the first year, he noted.

Effective Dec. 1, there will be a new membership policy for the YMCA. Participating members will receive a one-third discount on classes and activities and will pay daily pass rates to use the physical facilities. Physical memberships and Nautilus memberships will entitle members to a two-thirds discount on classes and activities and free use of physical facilities.

A MONTHLY payment program for memberships is available.

The Nautilus will be operated in cooperation with St. Elizabeth Medical Center. SEMC staff members will test users at the beginning of the program and recommend a "wellness" program of exercise best suited for each individual.

Nautilus-trained YMCA personnel then will help each individual in meeting the goals of the wellness program.

IT IS HOPED the Nautilus equipment can be delivered within 90 days and remodeling of the "first class" area for the equipment will begin immediately, Swatling said.

Gifts used for financing the remodeling are from Granite City Steel, the Nestle Co. and McDonnell-Douglas.

Swatling also noted that through an agreement with Granite City Steel, parking for the YMCA now is available at 20th Street and Cleveland Boulevard. The lot can hold approximately 100 cars.

Peter Franzmann

Franzmann joins counseling center

Peter B. Franzmann is providing counseling services for Coordinated Youth Services, 1254 Niedringhaus Ave., and the Family Counseling Center of Southwestern Illinois. Officials have announced that families or individuals wishing to make an appointment may call the Family Counseling Center at 274-5166 between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays.

Both Coordinated Youth Services and Family Counseling Center are United Way Agencies. Fees for services are based on a sliding scale according to family size and income. Officials say they refuse service to no one because of inability to pay.

Franzmann has had experience in the mental health field working with families in a variety of settings, including public school systems, psychiatric hospitals and youth counseling agencies.

He received his master's degree in social work in 1968 from Washington University and is a member of the Academy of Certified Social Workers. Family Counseling Center is accredited by the Council on Accreditation of Services.

Illini Federal plans to sell public stock

Illini Federal Savings and Loan Association has received approval from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to convert from a mutual to a publicly-owned stock company, according to Richard C. May, chairman.

"Our board of directors recommends that Illini Federal members vote in favor of this plan to change the form of ownership at the special meeting on December 20, 1984," said May. "With approval, members will have priority to purchase the stock which we plan to offer later this year."

"Conversion to a stock company will not affect rates or terms of savings accounts and loans, and deposits will continue to be insured safe by the FDIC up to $100,000," May added. "The increased capital from the sale of Illini Federal stock will facilitate the continued expansion of our financial services."

Founded in 1985, Illini Federal now has assets of over $550 million. It is the sixth largest savings and loan based in the St. Louis area and operates 10 offices in southwestern Illinois.

MAN CHARGED WITH 2 COUNTS OF BATTERY

Keith A. Stanley, 23, of Washington Park, was charged with two counts of battery after he allegedly beat a woman and her 6-year-old son.

Brenda Green of the Bissell Street Apartments, signed complaints last week on behalf of herself and her son. Police noted that Mrs. Green is pregnant and due to have her child anytime.

THEFT AND DAMAGE CHARGES ARE FILED

Gail E. Standley, 29, of 2127 Fourteenth St., was booked on state charges of theft and criminal damage to property late last week, when arrested in the 2000 block of Iowa Street.

Standley was taken into custody by security personnel at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, who reported seeing the man allegedly breaking into parking meters at that location.

Study regional law enforcement project funding

Dwindling funds for the Southwest Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (SILEC) are causing its executive committee to take a hard look at the organization's future.

At the latest meeting, several members of the executive committee expressed concern that SILEC programs have been reduced to one project—a mobile police training unit.

Fred Dalton, a Madison County board member on the SILEC executive committee, said SILEC needs to broaden the types of programs it sponsors if it wants to receive additional funding.

Dalton said the economy and cutbacks in Federal grants have contributed to SILEC's problems. SILEC previously sponsored numerous law enforcement programs and bought new equipment for police departments.

Formed in 1969, it is an organization designed to funnel state and federal funding for law enforcement operations in a seven-county area. The organization consists primarily of police and public officials.

Dalton told the members that if the organization does not become more involved and sponsor projects such as neighborhood watch groups and missing children programs, there will be no hope of attracting additional financial sources.

"If we can be the conduit between these types of groups and the funding sources, SILEC may get stronger," Dalton said. "If some source sees that a group is SILEC-backed, we can get some more money."

The mobile police training unit offers instruction on subjects such as new self-defense tactics, firearms use and drug information. The unit covers the seven-county area.

Rudy Sowders, police chief of Alton, said he thinks the mobile unit is important. He said SILEC should avoid sponsoring programs such as neighborhood watch groups because it would detract from the mobile unit.

A group which SILEC may become involved with is SEARCH, a state program that provides funds to establish units for investigating cases of missing children.

SILEC must decide whether it wants to match $75,000 in state funding to begin the program.

INCIDENT AT TRAFFIC SIGN LEADS TO ARREST

Richard A. Waggoner, 19, of 209 Wilson Park Lane, was charged with aggravated assault last week. In a court appearance the same day, he pleaded innocent and was released after posting a $100 cash bond.

The charge resulted from an incident, when Waggoner allegedly approached a car halted at a stop sign at Niedringhaus Avenue and Walnut Street and yelled and cursed the occupants.

Evelyn Cawthon of the Granite City Army Installation said Waggoner, a former friend of her daughter, hit the auto with a chain belt, made threats and challenged those in the car to fight. A complaint was signed. Waggoner was arrested when he came to police headquarters and wanted to sign a counter complaint.

Coupon book sale will aid Hospice

Hospice of Madison County has just begun a "Coupon Power" fund-raising drive in order to raise money for the purpose of upgrading and expanding their services to the Madison County area. Hospice of Madison County cares for many terminally ill of Madison County in the home, so each patient can live his remaining days in the comfort of his home.

"Coupon Power" is a discount coupon book filled with money-saving coupons to movies, restaurants, fast food, merchandise, entertainment and many other items. One book can be redeemed for hundreds of dollars in discounts. Hospice of Madison County will earn up to fifty percent profit on every book that it sells. The books will sell for $6 each and using one or two coupons will recoup the purchase price. "Coupon Power" is available at the Hospice of Madison County Offices in the McKinley Building across from St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Interested persons also may call 798-3399 for mail orders.

GC savings and loan is among 100 strongest

The Holt Investment Advisory, a leading investment newsletter out of Westport, Conn., has listed State Loan and Savings Association of Granite City in its table of the 100 strongest savings and loans institutions in the nation.

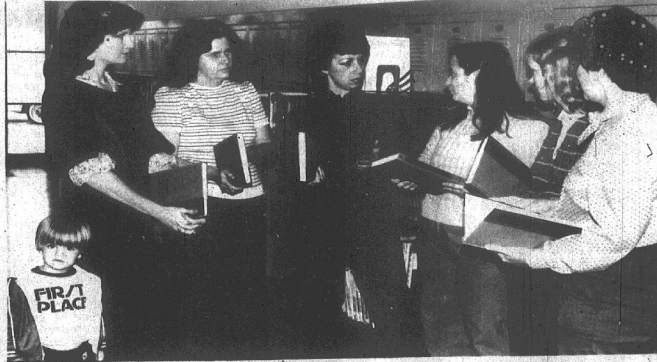

Holt based its 100 strongest list on data provided by the nation's 3,158 federally insured savings and loans. The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the agency that regulates savings and loans, Holt analyzed the data of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, factoring in such key measurements as total assets, total equity, equity-to-assets ratio and total loans. From this analysis and based on its own grading system came the report on the 100 strongest savings and loans. State Loan and Savings Association has been serving the Granite City area since 1919.

19 seminars focus on soybean profits

Illinois soybean farmers can learn more about how to profit from their soybean crop by attending one of 19 area soy profit seminars sponsored by the Land of Lincoln Soybean Association and agribusinesses.

At these seminars, farmers can get the latest information on the soybean market outlook, new uses for soybeans, financial planning, soybean research, tillage alternatives and soybean market promotion worldwide.

Land of Lincoln Soybean Association President Lloyd Anderson urges area farmers to attend. He says, "This is the second year the Soybean Association has sponsored these seminars to provide a needed exchange of information."

Any soybean farmer may attend the soy profit seminars. Each seminar begins at 9:30 a.m., concludes by 3 p.m., and includes lunch. There is no registration fee and advance registration is not required.

Anderson says that each seminar is tailored to the needs of the surrounding area. Representatives of agribusinesses will co-sponsor each seminar to provide exhibits and information.

Eight seminars are scheduled for November and December. These include seminars at the VFW Club in Highland and Blackburn College in Carlinville earlier this week; Parkview Cafe in Petersburg today; Deck Plaza Inn in Geneseo, Nov. 30; Derrick Restaurant in Nashville, Dec. 11; Holiday Inn in Muddy, Dec. 12; Southern Edge Restaurant in Greenville, Dec. 13 and the Lions Club in Shelbyville, Dec. 14.

Eleven seminars are slated for January. These include seminars at the Elks Club in Pontiac, Jan. 8; Richard's Farm in Casey, Jan. 9; Douglas County Farm Bureau in Tuscola, Jan. 11; Hancock County Extension Office in Carthage, Jan. 15; Eagles Lodge in Canton, Jan. 16; Elliott School in Elliott, Jan. 17; Ramada Inn in Danville, Jan. 18; Crossways Standard in Compton, Jan. 22; Redwood Inn in Kankakee, Jan. 23; Pittsick Pavilion in Ottawa, Jan. 24 and the Holiday in Olney, Jan. 29.

Safety tips help keep pets fit during the holidays

Ornaments, ribbons, tinsel, holiday plants, rich food—all of the things that make the holidays a happy season for people, can make it a hazardous one for pets.

With a little common sense and care, pet owners can see that the holidays and the whole winter season are a safe, healthy time for the entire household.

When decking the halls with shiny decorations and holiday plants, remember that what appeals to the eye is likely to appeal to a pet's appetite. One should hang mistletoe, evergreen garlands, wreaths and other decorations up high, where the dog or cat can't reach them.

Common household holiday plants that are poisonous to pets include poinsettia, mistletoe, holly leaves and berries, and Christmas roses. Unless someone is present to keep a watchful eye on them, four-footed family members should be kept out of the room where the Christmas tree is located. Broken ornament pieces, when eaten, can perforate the intestine; tinsel, ribbon and cord can cause intestinal blockage if swallowed. Dangling electric cords from tree or window lights are another source of danger, as is artificial snow, which is poisonous.

Persons should resist the temptation to share their holiday dinner with their pet. Rich tasty foods may be very appetizing and eagerly accepted by a dog or cat, but their digestive systems, often cannot handle such foods.

Turkey bones may splinter and should never be given to pets. Also, the string used in tying turkeys for baking should be properly disposed of.

The holiday season also signals the start of the long, cold winter. What may be considered a hardship for humans could mean death for an animal. A few precautions may save pets needless suffering. Persons having any questions concerning cold weather care of animals may contact their veterinarian or the Association for the Protection of Animals (APA).

Also during this gift-giving season, the APA would appreciate any donations to their not-for-profit organization. Donations may be sent to the APA, Post Office Box 1311, Granite City, Ill., 62040.

Voluntary tax assistance available

The Internal Revenue Service has a volunteer program in which persons may be interested in participating. The program is called VITA, which stands for Volunteer Income Tax Assistance.

In the VITA program, volunteers are recruited to provide free assistance to taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax help. VITA instructors and training materials are provided free by the IRS and training is conducted at a location convenient to volunteers and instructors.

VITA programs can be sponsored by local, civic or fraternal organizations, educational institutions, churches and social groups. For the convenience of taxpayers who cannot travel to an IRS office, most VITA volunteers provide assistance at neighborhood locations such as schools, churches and libraries.

Persons or organizations interested in the VITA program may contact the IRS Taxpayer Education Coordinator at 1-217-492-4288.

Illinois farm trade mission to Africa

Illinois agricultural products are on display in northern Africa as part of an international trade mission to Algeria, Tunisia and Senegal, Gov. James R. Thompson has announced.

"Expanding our marketing efforts to this region of the world is a major step toward having a 'Made in Illinois' label on products used around the globe," Thompson said. "As the world's developing countries advance toward modernization of their agricultural economies, Illinois businesses are in a unique position to be well established as primary suppliers."

Help keep Christmas safe for your pet!

Historical museum to present Christmas past

The Madison County Historical Museum, 715 N. Main St., Edwardsville, will present "Recalling Christmas Past: the Historic Weir House at Christmas," from Dec. 2 through 30.

Eight rooms in the 1836 restored home are filled with nostalgic antique ornaments, toys, dolls and Christmas cards, many loaned by area residents just for this exhibit. An old-fashioned Christmas tree graces the parlor.

Much of the greenery which will be displayed in the home will be donated by Madison County florists. Local florists will include: Bob's Flowers, Charlet's Flower Shop and Ferd's Flowers.

A Christmas Open House is scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 2, from 1 to 4 p.m. From 2 to 3 p.m. that day, music will be provided by The Golden Voices, under the direction of Mrs. Hoyt Holford. Refreshments will be served.

The Friends of the Museum will host a Christmas Open House and Coffee on Wednesday, Dec. 12 from 10:30 a.m. to noon.

The Museum is open to the public on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., and on Sundays from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. There is no admission charge. Groups are being urged to make appointments in advance.

Group discusses breast problems

Breast Diagnostics Ltd. will be sponsoring a conference concerning breast problems from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 1. The conference will be held in the Collinsville Holiday Inn.

The featured speakers will include: Kathi T. Panzau, a representative from the American Cancer Society; Dr. Francis E. Bihss, Dr. Zaki Sheikh, Mrs. Darlene Simmons and Dr. J. Michael Ribaud.

Topics covered will be early detection, mammography, sonography, types of treatment, prosthesis, Image Custom Breast Prosthesis and plastic reconstruction.

Bubblemasters continue dedication to diving safety

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

The Bubblemasters Dive Club of Granite City is celebrating the 25th anniversary of its founding this year and, although many of the faces have changed over the two-and-a-half decades, the objectives of the group remain firmly in place.

The club's original concepts of safety and fellowship continue to flourish and adherence to safe diving techniques under all circumstances is constant. Safety factors are stressed repeatedly in training prospective divers and instinctively practiced by those already qualified.

FAMILY INVOLVEMENT in club events continues to be important and youthful divers are always encouraged to develop their skills.

Competition still is keen among club members and remains a vital part of the overall program. Currently, there are 79 divers listed on the Bubblemasters' roster.

The attitude of divers pretty well is the same as in earlier years, although their gear and accommodations are now so extensive and scientifically accurate, it's difficult to see how one enjoyed the sport without them.

REGARDLESS of weather conditions, most divers are durable and without hesitation are "off and running at the drop of a swim fin."

As one "old" diver explains, "You can't feel the rain, nor much of the cold underwater."

Clear water is the environment most sought by divers, who nowadays will travel anywhere—the Florida Keys, the West Indies or the lakes in southwest Missouri—to attain good visibility.

In the club's early years, once gear was bought and the tanks were filled, the next obstacle to overcome was finding that clear water.

MANY WEEKENDS were spent by club members scouting lakes in Missouri and Illinois and these reconnaissance trips proved fruitful. Devil's Kitchen and Little Grass Lake in the Carbonate area were the closest resource, but the Bubblemaster's favorite diving spots in this region, both then and now, are Bull Shoals and Table Rock lakes in southwestern Missouri.

Adding a new dimension was the discovery more than a decade ago of the sparkling clarity of waters surrounding the Florida Keys, which dissect the Atlantic Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Several families make an annual trek each March and sometimes also in November to this diving paradise, where a stop-in call is made on former Bubblemasters Joe and Mary Ann Clark, now owner-operators of Ocean Divers, one of the largest and most successful diving concerns in Florida.

In researching some history of the club, Barbara Duffin and Mary Brannan, both active club members and wives of longtime Bubblemaster leaders, came up with some interesting facts, which were compiled by Gina Horstmeier for the anniversary program.

In 1959, four members of the Masketeers Dive Club of Alton and five local divers decided to form a sports-social scuba diving club in Granite City area.

Al Mueller, then general manager of the Granite City Press-Record, was instrumental in organizing the local club. Mueller later went into more extensive aspects of diving, focusing on oceanography, and now lives in California.

CHARTER MEMBERS of the club were Mueller and his wife, Patricia "Fish" Mueller, A. J. "Bud" Evenden, Fred Law, Rich Griffin, Carl Krohne, Vyvonne Durbin, Bill Brannan and Valerie Evenden.

Mueller also was the area's first qualified diving instructor and arranged and taught the first two classes at the newly constructed Paddlers Pool, a private swim club, and the Tri-City Area YMCA.

A small group of fledgling divers emerged from the courses and enthusiastically elected to pursue the sport and to encourage others to get involved.

THE GROUP met at the Mueller residence and the YMCA and finally a name was selected in a rather unusual fashion, the researchers report.

Each member was asked to submit their choices with the names then dropped into a hat and one drawn at random. The name—Bubblemasters—submitted by the reporter was selected, the club researchers advised.

One of the major problems facing a scuba diver in 1959 was an inability to purchase scuba gear.

Diving was a relatively new sport in the United States, especially in the Midwestern region, and most sporting goods stores did not stock the appropriate equipment.

AT THAT TIME, diving gear consisted solely of a mask, fins, tank and regulator, costing approximately $100. The same equipment today costs several hundred dollars.

If needed then, a snorkel for skin diving cost about $1 and a knife used by divers was about $3.

Weights to equalize the buoyancy of the body beneath the surface were virtually unobtainable and had to be handcast, courtesy of a local steel plant. Later, when wet suits were available and more widely used, the weights became indispensable to the sport.

DIVERS THEN used only the basic gear, with few frills or additional equipment, such as compasses, specific pressure gauges, inflationary life vests, spearguns or underwater watches. Most of these items are now considered essential to safely enjoy the sport.

Finding compressed air for the tanks was another complication for divers 25 years ago. Initially, air was obtained from the Alton Masketeers Club, which had constructed its own compressor, and frequent trips were made back and forth to Alton.

In 1960, the Bubblemasters voted to purchase their own compressor, a small three-cubic-foot unit which required a 20-minute time period to fill one tank.

Many sleepless nights were spent by some tanks prior to an open water diving trip.

Eventually, a cascade system was devised, enabling some storage of air and for sometime afterward, this equipment proved a welcome respite to the club's airmaster who was always on call.

Also in 1960, the first annual "Awards Banquet" was held at the former Cline's Restaurant. Mueller, the club's first president, was presented the prestigious "Diver of the Year" award.

COMPETITIVE spearfishing also was introduced that year, plus underwater treasure hunts, and fishing derbies for the children became an annual event.

Eighteen teenage club members, ranging in age from 15 to 18, formed the Kingfish Club in 1961, in cooperation with the local YMCA.

By 1962, the membership decided to sponsor its first ice dive at a sandpit on Route 3 and Jerry Moseman, who hailed from Minnesota, was instrumental in its success.

But it was the second ice dive at Robin Hood Lake in Carrollton which attracted the greatest turnout of members. Perhaps due to the thermometer reaching the 80 degree mark that day.

THE BUBBLEMASTERS organized the area's first recovery team in 1962 to assist county and local law enforcement agencies, none of which had qualified divers. The team continues to work closely with emergency groups and police departments today.

The initial squad consisted of Mueller, Don Ballard, Glen Wright, Jack Atkinson, Bob Bone, Ron Homyer, Tom Sumner and Ed Duffin.

Several interesting projects were started the following year, including construction of an underwater submarine, a towing sled and housing for a camera to use in experimental underwater photography.

The club's first big compressor was purchased in 1963 and was used in conjunction with a cascade system, which was the engineering brainchild of a member.

THIS COMPRESSOR was replaced in 1973 by a Maklo unit, an expensive piece of machinery, which was purchased. "Only through the hard work and efforts of club members," it was noted, it is still in use today.

As demand for its skills and services increased, the recovery team was reorganized as the Bubblemasters Underwater Recovery Team (BURT) in 1971 under the direction of Don DiGirolamo, Vance Weiss, Ed Duffin, Dee Adams and Rich Grizzard. The highly acclaimed BURT squad has 30 members today, headed by Captain Bud Horstmeier and Lieutenants Glen Gates, Bill Horton and Ed Duffin, who started with the original team. Barb Gates is team secretary and Paula Weiss is treasurer.

PRESENT OFFICERS of the Bubblemasters are Bill Schaefer, president, Pete Fourcalt, vice president, Barb Duffin treasurer and Rita Young, secretary.

Despite many challenges and obstacles over the years, the Bubblemasters' spirit and pride has overcome the odds and the club remains a sound entity with a youthful quality pervading its membership. It must be all that water!!

News notes

Officials are considering repairing the Madison County Courthouse's entranceways, outdoor steps and sidewalks. All four entrance are cracking and one of the northern entrance has fallen. A second exit for a basement jury room is being studied. The treasurer's office is to be moved across First Street, leaving space for two new courtrooms and more room for the circuit clerk's staff.

The FBI is not actively investigating bombing and burning of abortion clinics because it does not see a national conspiracy or define the problem as terrorism. Since it is likely that some federal laws (as well as state laws) are being violated, there will continue to be study by the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. Since March 1982, the bureau has investigated 25 cases of bomb incidents involving clinics in Washington, California, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Virginia, the District of Columbia, Maryland and Delaware.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene supported requiring motorists and bus passengers to wear seatbelts, but the bill attracted only a 29-21 vote Wednesday, one short of passage in the 59-member Senate.

Illinois bankers at their convention in St. Louis this week urged that the limit on a bank's facilities be raised from three to five, that holding companies be permitted to own banks throughout the state, and that holding companies in reciprocating adjacent states be allowed to own Illinois banks.

The Family Services and Visiting Nurses Association has named Kenneth Pelletier to replace Marilyn Bryant as director of the Madison County Head Start pre-school program.

Man charged with having loaded revolver in tavern

Larry G. Buettner, 21, of 305 W. Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, was arrested at 11:10 p.m. Wednesday at Jacobsmeier's Tavern, 2401 Edwards St., on charges of unlawful use of a weapon and having no firearm owner identification card.

Told that a man had a gun there, police entered and found the suspect seated at a table near the front door, with a handgun protruding from the back of his trousers.

Officers said they confiscated a blue steel .38 caliber revolver with two live rounds of ammunition in its cylinder.

Crime blockers meet Saturday in Venice

By VALERIE EVENEDEN of the Press-Record

The Venice Crime Blockers will meet at 10 a.m. Saturday in the Venice Senior Citizens' Community Center.

All Venice residents interested in helping to reduce crime in the community are being invited to attend. Mayor Echols announced at Tuesday night's meeting of the Venice City Council.

THE CITIZENS' involvement program was initiated in early October and Venice Police Sergeant Bill Reed was appointed to work with local residents wishing to become part of a network of concerned citizens.

Mayor Echols also announced this week that a "victory" celebration will take place at 6:30 p.m. today in the senior center, Bissell and Brown streets.

The event will be co-hosted by the Venice mayor and Madison Alderman Don Garrett, Nov. 26 election bid for a seat on the Madison County Board was successful.

CIRCUIT JUDGE William E. Johnson has invited the Venice mayor to officially preside at his swearing-in ceremony Monday at the Madison County Courthouse in Edwardsville. Mayor Echols reported.

At this week's council session, Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. reported that an irresponsible person fired shots into the Consolidated Aluminum (Conelco) plant at College and Weaver streets in Venice, damaging windows.

"Although no one was injured (in the incident) what if a guard happened to be in that building near the window or was coming out of a door at the time," the alderman said.

"THIS VANDALISM is a weekend thing and I heard that a kid was seen on top of a nearby roof. I am saying to people in that area if they notice kids on a roof late at night, they should call the police."

"This is a serious problem," Alderman Valentine said, adding, "Before this, they (vandals) threw apples in the same area, but we can't deal with it all."

Three weekend incidents involving shots being fired at vehicles and a fourth one in which the victim was unable to determine if the vehicle damage resulted from a bullet or a rock thrower were reported to police in the vicinity of Route 3 and Bissell Street. Venice Police Chief Parris Smith noted.

needed and then make a hasty decision.

With this suggestion, President George Sykes asked Nancy Sanders, chairman of the engineering committee, to present a recommendation at the next session.

The board agreed to postpone annexing properties to the park district as requested by the owners until the December meeting, since there is a possibility that an additional parcel will be added to the list.

All park commissioners agreed to conduct the next meeting on Dec. 26 as scheduled and will convene promptly at 7 p.m.

In other business the board's minutes noted that Hastings & Chivella, architect planners who submitted drawings for the proposed new swimming pool, were paid a total of $4,011. This was approved at a special meeting.

The Christmas Festival was terminated a success again this year and receipts resulting in the annual project totaled $777.

There were 33 tables reserved for residents, at a cost of $7.50 and 23 tables for non-residents with a cost of $12.50 each as well as concession for the day.

Also, a review of the Sports Award Banquet was discussed with a suggestion that next year the location be changed to the high school cafeteria and the menu be planned for a full-course dinner.

Hirsch Co. department store in the past. The Pizza Pit restaurant, operated by Nauduski Township Supervisor Harry Briggs and his family, is the only business presently open in the shopping center.

AT THAT TIME, plans indicated that the shopping center would be expanded to include a cinema and restaurant and space for a banking facility could be added in the future.

Another request from Green asks for $750,000 in industrial revenue bonds for the construction of a convenience store at 4086 Pontoon Road.

The trustees approved a memorandum of agreement, which shows that the board supports Green's efforts to obtain bonds and construct the projects.

IN OTHER ACTION Tuesday, the board approved two zoning requests which were recommended by the zoning board.

Green also requested a use variation to allow a foundation he had constructed to remain 15 feet from the roadway in Lakeview Estates of Georgetown Drive. Although the village's ordinance states that the setback should be 20 feet, the board approved the variation on the recommendation of the zoning board.

Leo Kamadulski requested a special use permit to place a mobile home off Highway 162 in the village for his son's residence.

GREEN ALSO WANTS $3.5 million in industrial revenue bonds to finance the acquisition of the Oakmont Shopping Center, formerly the Gaslight Plaza, at 4080 Pontoon Road. Green has indicated that he intends to renovate existing buildings and construct new buildings and equipment for the 40,000-square-foot project.

The village board previously issued a permit to Green for the construction.

In August of 1983, the Press-Record reported that Green's workers were doing extensive remodeling work to the existing shopping center building, which has housed Viano's, Schermer Brothers grocery stores and a P.N.

In Edwardsville

Warrior grapplers begin season Friday

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Wrestling is a game of stamina and numbers. A lot of stamina, but mostly numbers. Numbers ranging from 98 to 185 and unlimited to one to six for individual points awarded.

For Granite City High School coach Bill "Red" Schmitt, those numbers are 35 and 25. Schmitt, the dean of high school wrestling in the country, will debut his 35th Warrior team Friday when Granite City begins its season in Edwardsville. The Warriors open in a quadrangular meet at 6 p.m. against the Tigers, Carbondale, Centralia, and the Cardinals.

Schmitt because he will seek his 25 regional title this year. Only the sixth wrestling coach the Warriors have ever had, Schmitt has amassed 24 regional titles — all consecutive before Granite City North broke that string two years ago.

This will be a silver year for Schmitt, regardless if he gets his 25th regional title away from Roxana. Looking towards retirement, it may also be his last.

"My career here has gone the full circuit," Schmitt said. "I started here in 1960. Walt Whitaker was my team captain then and now he's back with me as my assistant. Maybe that should tell me something."

"AT ONE time getting 600 dual meet victories really meant a lot to me, but not any more. It's not really that big a deal," Schmitt said. "I've got the national (most wins) record."

For Schmitt, who is a member of the Illinois High School Wrestling Advisory Board and a past National High School Coach of the Year, the early prognosis of his team looked to be a good one.

With the likes of 98-pound state qualifier senior Jeff Cotter, 139-pound state qualifier junior Tom Sparks, and seniors Lester White, 185 pounds, Vince Sleska, 126 pounds, and Mark Whitaker, 145 pounds, all returning, Schmitt was beaming.

But then the injuries.

WHITE'S knees, which plagued him last year, proved too weak for the rigors of twisting and moving so prevalent of wrestling practices. He decided against wrestling his senior year.

Sleska, another of Schmitt's team leaders this year, suffered a dislocated left shoulder. The Warriors' No. 1 126 pounder this year, he's expected to be out of action for at least six weeks.

Then there's Whitaker, another athlete Schmitt was hoping would provide leadership on the mats. The son of assistant coach, he, too, went out with a dislocated shoulder.

But that's not all. The list continues.

THERE'S Dave Knog, the Warriors' sophomore 138-pound potential, who has suffered a dislocated elbow. And, John Strickland, a freshman heavyweight who has suffered a fractured ankle. Both are expected to be out six weeks also.

In all, that's four Warriors (along with White) sidelined because of injuries even before the season started. And that, Schmitt says, will probably mean the Warriors will get off to a slow start.

"Before the season I thought we'd be pretty doggone tough," Schmitt said. "We had our wrestlers distributed in the proper weight classes, but now I don't know. The injuries are definitely going to hurt us."

DESPITE the injuries, Schmitt offered a probable starting lineup for Friday's quad meet.

At 98 pounds, the Warriors will have perhaps the most experienced wrestler in that weight class in the Southwestern Conference.

In his fourth year at the weight, Cotter is a little dynamo who loves the Grambly Roll. A state qualifier last year as a junior, he finished the season with a 33-3 record. Wrestling behind him is freshman Rich Smallie.

At 105 pounds for the Warriors will be junior Darren Singleton. He wrestled at 105 last year. Wrestling behind Singleton, Schmitt has tentatively slated Richie Wilson, a sophomore.

AT 112 pounds the Warriors are also two deep — Tracy Morrison and John Jenkins. Morrison, a sophomore transfer student from Edwardsville, finished fourth in the Granite City High Sectional last year. Jenkins saw limited action with the varsity Warriors last year, 0-2.

At 126 pounds the Warriors' starting position is "vacant." Possible starters there are Brett Carner, a junior, and Jon Morgan, a sophomore. Although, Calvin Barton, a senior, may have the inside track on the position.

Barton wrestled for Schmitt at 112 three years ago as a freshman and moved away after that season. Now, with Barton's return, Schmitt says he's a leading candidate.

WHEN it came to 132 pounds, Schmitt offered no name that was that of Mike Lewis. A senior, Lewis was 10-12 for the Warriors last year. Sparks, a third-place finisher in last year's sectional, has pinned down the Warriors' 138-pound position while sophomores Glen Goodman and Bill Stone are listed as backups. Knog, after healing, will probably see action here as well.

With Whitaker temporarily out of the lineup at 145 pounds, the Warriors are probably the weakest here. Behind Whitaker the Warriors have no varsity experience, only sophomore Paul Brandt and freshman Terry Stanley.

AT 155 pounds, junior Mike Fenoglio seems to be the man. A two-year letterwinner, Fenoglio was 2-3 in varsity action last year behind Whitaker at 145 Kevin Lilley, also a junior, will wrestle behind Fenoglio. Steve Knog, 24-11 last year, is the Warriors' No. 1 grappler at 167 pounds. A senior, he'll be backed up by sophomore Mike Lynch.

Tracy McElroy will once again wrestle at 185 pounds for the Warriors. Actually a 167 pounder last year, McElroy "wrestled up" to fill the vacancy at 185. Darren Clutts, a senior who was 1-4 for the Warriors last year at 167 pounds, will back up McElroy.

The unlimited class for the Warriors in 1984-85 will be dominated by Darren Griffin, a senior who was 7-13 last year. Wrestling behind Griffin is Steve Moore, a first-year senior.

EVEN WITH all the injuries, Schmitt found reason for optimism. "Last year we were hit with a bunch of injuries too, but they came later. I'm hoping that since we're getting them now, we're stronger in the finish," Schmitt said. "When we get healthy and if we can keep everyone eligible we'll be tough to beat."

The Warriors' varsity season consists of four dual and triangular matches, seven quadrangular meets and two tournaments — the Southwestern Conference and the Granite City Holiday Tourney. Regionals begin on Feb. 8 with the sectionals on Feb. 12. The state tourney is Feb. 21-23.

Hockey Warriors

High-powered Warriors blast Hazelwood 9-1

By CHARLIE SKEAR
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City High school hockey team is broadcasting a message that's coming across loud and clear — if you want to defeat Granite City, you'll have to score a lot of goals.

The Warriors have outscored their opponents 39-6 in the five games played this season. Hazelwood Central was their latest victim, as Granite City trounced the Hawks by a 9-1 score Monday night to handily uphold the team's undefeated status. As in previous games, Granite City scored several goals in the final period — goals that Warrior coach Garry Henson was glad to see.

"I DON'T think it's a matter of running up the score," explained Henson. "I just feel that we have to let the other folks in the league know that they're going to have to score a lot of goals to beat us. I know we felt that way going against some of the tougher teams last year."

The Warriors are proving their point, although they could have amplified their broadcast and made matters much worse for Hazelwood Central. On numerous occasions, Granite City players missed golden opportunities to put the puck past Hazelwood Central goalie Steve Basken.

"WE MISSED a lot of shots," admitted Henson. "There was a minimum of five open nets in the first period and about that many in the second and third periods, too. Heck, we could have scored 20 goals tonight."

Henson attributed the problem on two relating factors.

"I think we were trying to set up the perfect play," he said. "Sometimes it team comes out and just bangs away. I think we needed more of that tonight."

GRANITE CITY — Record books reveal that they were once constant bitter rivals, meeting on virtually every field of competition.

Nowadays, though, they meet in "The other part of it is that we had too much time on offense. Their defense let us keep the puck longer and we felt we had to work for the better shot instead of shooting earlier."

EXCEPT for the team's shooting hesitancy, Henson had nothing but praise for the 9-1 performance.

"There was a minimum of five open nets in the first period and about that many in the second and third periods, too. Heck, we could have scored 20 goals tonight."

Garry Henson
Warrior hockey coach

"Our hustle was much better tonight than in the last few games," he said. "Some of our players are just now getting over the flu bug and I can see their improvement."

Once again the Warriors proved successful in killing penalties, a feat that Hazelwood Central couldn't match. Granite City killed all of their penalties during the game, but the Hawks gave up three goals while short-handed.

"Killing penalties is a big portion of our game," said Henson. "Out of 22 penalties, we've only been scored against twice."

GRANITE CITY took command of the game from the start, with first period goals coming off the sticks of Lee Schreiber and Chris Carden. Both individuals also scored in the third period.

Schreiber has the distinction of being Granite City's only out-of-district player. He attends Edwardsville High School and was a member of the Warrior team last year.

"The league allowed him to play for us because there is no hockey program at his school," said Henson. "He's not a power forward, but he contributes to the team."

DAVE Yurkovich was the third Warrior to score two goals. His first goal came in the second period when he slapped a shot in the upper right corner of the net, while he scored his second goal in the third period with assists by Steve Stegelmeier and Terry Wade.

Dave Wilmoth made it 3-0 in the second period when he slammed a shot in the left side of the goal. Mark Donit upped the lead to 4-0 after he received a pass at the blue line from Wilmoth, missed a shot and then blasted the rebound in for the score.

Hazelwood Central followed with what proved to be their lone goal of the game. A shot by Billy Diehl got past Warrior goalie Tom Schnefke.

AFTER goals by Yurkovich, Schreiber and Carden, Dave Young also scored for the Warriors late in the third period to round off the 9-1 score.

Granite City's next confrontation will be Saturday in a 9:15 p.m., away game against McClellan North.

"I'm happy with where we're at," said Henson. "We can't be any higher in the standings. We have 39 goals for and 6 against. That's not too bad a ratio."

That's also the message the Warriors are want to every other team to hear.

number of head-to-head competitions is the Illinois High School Association's two-class system which was implemented in the early 70s. Granite City, now with its combined high schools, has an enrollment of about 3,000, a Class AA school. Madison, whose enrollment is right around 600, is a Class A school.

SIMPLY PUT, Class AA schools do not like to play Class A schools, and vice versa.

But basketball. Oh, basketball. Now that's a different story.

Granite City is in the process of rebuilding its basketball program. After years of less than winning seasons, the Warriors may just have a winner in 1984-85.

And as for Madison... well, let me put it this way. March Madness, the craziest of times at the end of the basketball season, well when basketball season swings around the Trojans are not only crazy in March, but the four months which precede it as well!

THEY TRULY love their basketball

In Season Opener Like David and Goliath, Venice slew a giant named Sumner High

By JOE THOMPSON
of the Press-Record

VENICE — There were two things prominent in Venice High's basketball game against Sumner here Monday night, aside from the final score, which showed: Venice 57, Sumner 44.

The ending buzzer brought a stampede of Red Devil fans, rushing onto the floor to hug their team; victorious over a squad from a school whose enrollment of about 1,500 is roughly seven and one half times greater than the number of students in school at Venice.

IT WAS a jumping, screaming, delightfully happy mass that swarmed over the likes of Jesse Hall, the 6-2 sophomore guard who popped in 28 points to lead scorers, 6-1 senior forward Victor Jackson who tallied nine points, plucky Ed Ware and Vincent Harris, both sophomores. Ware and Harris led the junior varsity team to victory before helping the senior Red Devils to triumph. Ware scored 10 points in the varsity game.

Darren Wise and Charles Milton, both 6-2 seniors, were also somewhere under the blanket of fans. Wise, who had the distinction of being the only player to foul out, was not cheated on one of his fouls.

HE SOARED through the air in an effort to block what he thought would be a Sumner shot. Instead of the ball, the husky Wise stuffed the would-be Sumner shooter. Wise landed with a thud, somewhere near the exit door leading from the gymnasium.

Milton pulled down a key rebound in the final seconds. He also scored six points.

To think, this was just the first game of the season for Venice. What possibly can the Red Devils expect from their fans for an encore? More of the same, no doubt.

"THEY JUST love basketball here," Red Devil coach Clinton Harris, Jr. said. "They just love to win."

The fans' outpouring of joy was one noticeable thing about the game. Harris' finger traced the other. Scanning the statistics, it stopped at the foul shooting category.

It was here the Red Devils gave the fans one more reason to smile. The Red Devils canned 17 of 22 free throw attempts. Sumner just 28. Then, however, the Bulldogs had only seven attempts.

Foul!

So cried Bulldog coach Travis Brown, who pointed out it wasn't just his team's first contest of the season. "I think this was the referee's first game, too," he said.

BROWN was not pleased with some of the infractions called on his team. He certainly couldn't have been happy with the disparity at the free throw line.

"I venture to say I think they had the free throw edge," he said.

But you have to hand it to Venice.

"They hit their free throws," said Brown. "We didn't."

Most significant was the free throw shooting of the Red Devils' Hall. He made a pair of free throws with four seconds left to ice the game, and was perfect in 10 tries from the charity stripe.

HALL'S clutch free throws weren't the only ones. Milton made a pair of free throws with just under two minutes to play that lifted Venice into a 51-40 lead.

Indeed, it was, as Brown told his players, the majority of them underclassmen. "It was nip 'n' tuck."

After Milton's free throws, Ware tipped in a missed shot by Hall, who had stolen the ball. The basket put the Red Devils ahead—53-50.

Sumner's Freddie Robertson closed the gap, but Hall's jumper again put the Red Devils ahead by three.

Mark Hyche, who led Sumner with 17 points, narrowed the deficit again to one point, setting the stage for Hall's game-closing three throws.

WHILE the Red Devils had the edge in free throws, Sumner had the best of it underneath the boards.

At about 6:4, Hyche and Robertson were a couple inches taller than any of the Red Devils. They put their height advantage to good use.

Harris counted 14 rebounds. "And those were defensive rebounds," he said.

Well, one of them was. Milton's key rebound in the closing minute came off a missed free throw attempt. Still...

"We were getting one shot. They were getting three or four," said Harris.

WHILE the taller Bulldogs gave the Red Devils fits, so did the smaller ones, most notably Marvin "Fee Wee" Nunley. At 5-7, Nunley scored 16 points. He was a bundle of fireworks, not to mention points. His biggest explosion came in the first quarter, when Nunley reeled off four

Hunting for Whitetail and finding a friend

It's important every once in a while to get away. Away from the office. Away from familiar surroundings. Away from it all.

But sometimes you don't need or you can't afford to be away from the office that long. That's when a three-day weekend fills the prescription.

My annual cure for this fall affliction is a hunting trip, usually the second or third weekend in November.

Every year, well, for the last four anyway, I find sanctuary in the woods, hunting. By this time the leaves have fallen off the trees and the temperatures on these frosty mornings are brisk.

There's a kind of serenity in the woods — when Mother Nature begins to slip off to sleep. Absent is the activity of spring and the long days of summer. It's my favorite time of the year.

Part of what makes this annual exodus from urban life is that it is spent with my father and two of my brothers. So not only is it time spent away from it all, but it's also a good time to spend with family members who you don't see as regularly as you used to.

It's a time that I've come to look forward to each year.

We load up the camper with necessities for the three-day excursion up north, about 100 miles away to hunt Whitetail deer.

Actually, it isn't the hunting that we enjoy so much it's the camaraderie — the sitting around the table in dim light and talking about the days when we were growing up. We joke now about the way we used to fight when we were kids. And believe me, in a four-boy family there used to be a lot of "dissention among the ranks."

W began talking about our trip as early as August when my older brother, Mike, wrote to the farmer whose land we frequent.

Sports on the Run

By Alan L. Gertsenecker

"Everything's fine," the letter said. "We're looking forward to seeing you again."

We arrived at the farm Thursday night just about dusk. We left Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock so we could set up early, plenty of time to spare for Friday morning's hunt.

We'd just finished leveling the camper when we noticed that no one had come to greet us. The farm house about 30 yards away had an abandoned look about it.

Just about that time up drives a pickup truck and in it is a young man in his early 20s.

"Hi, what can I do for you?"

"We're looking for Mr. Rowley. It doesn't look like he's home," my brother Mike said.

"He's not. He doesn't live here anymore. They've moved off. My dad owns this place now," he said from the pickup.

We, my brothers, father and I, looked at each other, each thinking the same thing: "There goes our hunting trip."

Then after a moment and sensing our surprise the young man spoke.

"Yes. They lost the farm. They didn't tell you?"

We didn't have to answer. I'm sure the blank look on our faces said enough.

After the shock of the moment passed I finally got a few words out.

"Where are they now?"

"Up in Pearl," he said.

"Well, if your dad's the owner, do you think he'll let us hunt here. Mr. Rowley's given the OK the last four years."

"I don't know. I'll ask him. If it's not I'll be back to tell you," he said.

Well, it didn't take long before we saw his green pickup truck headed back up the road.

"Our hunting trip is ruined," we thought. It was now about dark. Where were we going to get permission. Who's going to open their doors to a campful of strangers and give permission to hunt, we thought.

We must've gone to half a dozen farmhouses, all receiving polite nays, before we approached this big, white farmhouse on a hill.

"If we don't get the OK here we're sunk," I told my brother Mike.

We rang the door bell. No answer. Then I knocked.

We waited about a minute before a young man came outside the door.

"You're at the wrong door," he said.

"Oh, sorry. Say, we realize it's getting late, but we're in kind of a predicament."

Then the young man interrupted.

"You'll have to talk to my father," he said.

The young man, whose name is Jim we later found out, was pleasant and directed us through a garage to his father.

We explained our predicament.

Right off the bat, he denied us permission.

Then as the conversation grew he began to waiver, his generosity came through.

"You guys look like responsible hunters. I'll tell you what. Seeing as you came as far as you have I'll let you hunt tomorrow (Friday). But, you've got to stay in certain areas, I've got a lot of cattle," the man said.

The man, an obviously successful farmer, would probably be embarrassed by mentioning his name, so we'll call him Mac. But he was as generous a man as you'll ever meet.

Mac sent Jim along with us to show us the designated hunting areas. Jim, in his early 20s is an agricultural student at a community branch college of Quincy College.

Then the clincher.

As Jim began to show us around the area where we could hunt we began talking.

"So your from Granite City?" Jim said.

"Yes, my wife and I live in an apartment there. I write sports for the newspaper there, the Press-Record," I said.

"Really? Do you know Pat Foley, the photographer, he's my cousin?"

I couldn't believe it.

"I sure do. His desk is about 20 feet from mine. We work together," I answered.

From then on conversation was easy and it didn't surround just hunting. We talked sports, agriculture and even a little politics. By Friday night they even offered another night's stay and later extended their hospitality to Sunday.

Jim and Mac were the most gracious of hosts. Really fine people. Jim was kind enough to show us where the deer had been running and in the process I even learned a little about farming.

But most of all, these two gracious people helped us keep a family hunting alive. As nice to get away and even nicer to meet them.

What a small, small world.

And about the hunting? I got a buck, but more importantly I made a couple new friends.

Venice

straight baskets. At the time, Venice led 19-12, the widest difference in points the entire game.

Nunley's play, indeed, might have reminded some of the play years ago of another notable Bulldog, Sumner's present coach Brown.

Harris certainly remembers Brown's playing days. The two, lifelong friends, went different ways when high school approached. Brown went to Sumner, while Harris enrolled at DeAndreis.

"I WAS going to go to Sumner," recalled Harris, "but a nun talked to my mother (Anna)."

It was enough. Harris was enrolled at DeAndreis. While there, he and Brown met on the playing court: Harris, as a center for DeAndreis, and Brown, as a guard for Sumner. It was quite a meeting, as Harris remembers.

"They beat us in triple overtime," said Harris. "They called it the 'Game of the Century.'"

Brown played a big role. "They were up by a point," said Harris.

"We were bringing the ball up the court. Travis stole the ball and hit on a layup. They beat us by three."

"WE GO back a long way," said Brown.

As for Harris', mother, Anna, she was at the game Monday. It was difficult to tell which side she was pulling for. She teaches English and is a Bulldog jacket. It was the first time she had seen her son coach a game.

"I know both can't win, but I'm pulling for both of them," she said.

After the game, Harris said, with a grin, "She was for Sumner, but she was hoping we'd win."

While Anna didn't take part in the post-game, on-the-floor celebration, her face did carry a big smile.

GCC Wrestling Star grapplers light on numbers, but still optimistic about season

By CHARLIE SKAER

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Last year's performances are becoming the goals for this year's wrestling squad at Granite City Center.

Two individuals who are well acquainted with Granite City program are 118-pound Chuck Gardner and 150-pound Darren Lindsey, the only lettermen on this year's squad.

Whitaker's hopes of a return trip to the national tournament are due primarily to these two individuals.

"Chuck (Gardner) is doing pretty well now," said Whitaker, who pointed out that Gardner was Granite City's lone wrestler to win a match against Meramec earlier this year and finished 2-2 last week at the St. Louis Open.

"DARREN (Lindsey) has been shifting between weights, but I think he'll settle in at 150 pounds."

Gardner, from West Frankfort, and Lindsey, from Herrin are also the only wrestlers from outside the Granite City area. Accompanying them are Granite City wrestlers Mike Trgovich and Kenny Paterson and Belleville native Brian Miller, who are being evaluated by Whitaker.

"All three have potential, but they have to adjust to the college style," said Whitaker. "It's a matter of timing and getting more physical."

Trgovich, who will be wrestling at 126 or 134 pounds, and 158-pound Paterson are presently facing a disadvantage because of a year's absence from wrestling. Both graduated from high school in 1983. Miller will be wrestling in the heavyweight division.

Three other Granite City wrestlers are Greg Nemeth, at 134 or 142 pounds, 142-pound Jeff Kraus and 167-pound Henry Brown. Heavyweight Chuck Hayden from Collinsville is attempting to transfer into the 190 pound division to fill a vacancy and also having two GCC wrestlers in the heavyweight division.

"ALL IN all, we're kind of in the same situation as last year," said Whitaker. "We'll mainly be shooting for some guys to get through the regionals and get to the nationals."

The Stars defeated East Central Junior College in a triangular meet with Meramec earlier this year, but failed to place at the St. Louis Open last week. Their next competition is set for Nov. 30 at the Illinois Open in Champaign.

EDWARDSVILLE — In their first full week of the 1984-85 schedule, the men's basketball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will jump into their "who's who" type schedule with both feet as they play a pair of road games against the defending national champions from Central Missouri State University and one of the top-ranked teams in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association, Northeast Missouri State University.

The Cougars, who made their 1984 debut last weekend in Louisville, Ky. by splitting a pair of games in the Bellarmine College Tournament, will square off against the Mules of Central Missouri State, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 1, the Cougars travel to Kirksville, Mo. for a 7:30 p.m. tip-off against the Bulldogs of Northeast Missouri State University.

Last weekend, at the Bellarmine Tournament, the Cougars got their first taste of NCAA-II action as they lost to Lincoln (Mo.) University, 72-67, before claiming their first victory of the season, 69-55, over Davis and Elkins College.

For all but Rod Horne, who transferred to SIUE from Henderson State University, Saturday's game against Lincoln marked the first game any member of the Cougars had played on the Division II level. And the Cougars responded by jumping out to a 35-23 lead 16 minutes into the game.

Led by Dwight Newsome's 18 points and Horne's 14 rebounds, the Cougars maintained the lead until the Blue Tigers, who went on to win the tournament championship and push their record to 4-0, rallied to take a 54-53 lead with just 7:31 left to play.

Sunday, against Davis and Elkins, the Cougars again jumped out to a big first-half lead, which included a 16-point margin with six minutes to play in the first half. With their first victory on the line, SIUE opened the lead to 25 points, 5-30, in the second half. Billy Papa, the point guard from Madison High School, and Newsome each collected 15 points, while Horne came off the bench to collect a team-high rebounds and nine points.

Following this weekend's action, the Cougars will make their 1984-85 home debut next Wednesday, Dec. 5, against Lewis University as part of the grand opening celebration of the Vandalia Center.

Tip-off is scheduled for 7:40 p.m. and admission is free.

SIUE women take unbeaten record into Converse Classic

By AL BARNES

for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Friday night, Coach Wendy Hedberg and her women's basketball team at Southern Illinois U. at Edwardsville will attempt to keep their season record an unbeaten one as they host the second annual Converse Cougar Women's Basketball tournament classic.

Off to their best start in 11 seasons, the lady Cougars are now 2-0 after two impressive victories and no losses. The SIUE women cagers opened with an awesome 82-42 victory over St. Louis' Harris-Stowe College and this past Tuesday night's 56-53 triumph over a visiting Western Illinois U. squad.

Over the past 10 years, the women Cougars are 197 to 75. Hedberg is starting her sixth season at the helm at SIUE. She matriculated at Western Illinois where she was an All-American shortstop on the softball team.

The opening game tomorrow night in the tourney will pit last year's two finalists, the U. of Missouri-Kansas City and runner-up Indiana State U. of Evansville at 6 p.m. in SIUE's new Vadalabene Center.

At 8 p.m., the host Cougars will take the floor against Chicago State.

After two games, Coach Hedberg will start Barbie Drew of Carbondale and Ranae Harris of Chicago at the forwards, tall (6'-1") Cheryl McCree at center and at the guards, Alissa Collins of Argenta, Ill., and Mia Smith of Farina, Ill. Madison's senior, Darlene Reed is being counted on now as the Cougars' first sub. At 6-foot, Reed is being counted on to play either at center or a forward. McCree is from Carterville.

Accurate shooting and clever ball-handling, Mia Smith, is leading the Cougars in scoring with a two-game average of 16 points as she has hit on eight of nine attempts from the floor. Drew, at 5'-8", a strong forward, has averaged 12 points a game to just trail McCree's 13 points.

Harris at the other forward is averaging 11 points a game.

Barb Straker, who saw limited action last campaign because of injuries, has looked impressive in both early games and especially so against Western Illinois as she pulled down a game-high 15 rebounds. She is from Steubenville, Ohio.

Coach Hedberg, although pleased with her charges fast start, was still shook-up after her team came close to blowing a 23-point first half lead against Western Illinois.

"It was crazy," she explained, "we held a 35-30 lead at the half-time break and was barely able to hang on to win, 56-53. It was simply fantastic. The first half, we couldn't do anything wrong the second half, it was just the other way round."

Saturday night, the first night's winners will play for the championship at 8 p.m. and the two losers will meet in the third-place game at 6 p.m.

Following the tournament, the women Cougars will remain at home for three straight games including next Wednesday night's (Dec. 5th) game against St. Louis U. in a 5-15 p.m. curtain raiser for the men's season opener at home against St. Lewis U. of Joliet at 7:30 p.m.

Admission to both games will be free.

Warriors will hope to neutralize the Trojans' quickness.

IT SHOULD make for an interesting contest, featuring two varying styles of basketball — speed against a stingy defense.

It will also make a game of two vastly different coaches. Detering with his 20 years of experience and coach Rodney Watson in his first year as the Trojans' coach.

But, aside from the coaches there will be the players.

Granite City is laden with seniors and with it a lot of experience: Scott Cant, Kurt Hilly, Jeff Gray, Don Stevanus and Jerry Pall.

The Trojans have Reggie Banks. All-Everything last season, DeLloyd Williams and James Bennett. It'll be the best of one game vs. the best of another.

It should be a game to remember. A game, which for one night, will resurrect an old rivalry.

Jayvee action begins at 6:15 p.m. The varsity game will begin about 7:45 p.m.

Caesars is second in soccer tourney

Little Caesar's soccer team of Granite City finished second in the Collinsville Rowdie's Invitational Tournament last weekend at Van Fossan Field.

Complating in the under 12 division, Little Caesar's played three games in the four-team round-robin affair.

The local club won their first game 3-2 on goals scored by Mike Montgomery, Chris Milton and Chris Sturdivant.

In a second game, against O'Fallon, Little Caesar's battled to a 2-2 draw. Putting the balls in the net for the local club were Brian Buskhe and Larry Strader.

Little Caesar's dropped its final to Coca Cola from St. Louis 3-2, to finish the tourney 1-1-1. Scoring for Caesars in that game was Buskhe and Brian McKeachan.

Coaches of the team are Tom Cholewick and Herb Milton.

Wrestling Club sign up

The Granite City Wrestling Club is still registering youths who wish to participate in its winter wrestling program.

Although the club has ceased its formal registration sessions, those persons who wish to participate may still do so by signing up at its practices twice a week.

According to Bill Widel, club spokesman, persons may come to either of its practices on Monday and Wednesday evenings at Granite City Center gymnasium. Practices are from 7 to 9 p.m.

The club is for youths in the sixth grade or younger.

Persons registering for the first time will need to submit a copy of their birth certificate to prove age. Persons who wrestled with the club last year need not present proof of age.

Persons seeking further information about the Granite City Wrestling Club may call Widel at 787-1834.

Dimensional 'people skills' training helps GC Steel to stay competitive worldwide

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

"To see ourselves as others see us."

That is always difficult to accomplish, but it is only one of many attainments made possible at Granite City Steel and National Steel by "dimensional training."

ENTHUSIASTIC advocates of a "four-dimensional" approach to management and human relations include Robert D. McBride, National Steel president and a former Granite City Steel president, William Swanson, GC Steel vice president and general manager, and Hank Sangster, manager of operations at the local plant.

Equally proud of dimensional training is Stanley Howlett, a 30-year Granite City Steel employee who coordinates this field of instruction. About 4,000 have received the training here in the 1980s and late 1970s.

In Howlett's view, Q4, or DMT (dimensional management training), is one of the key reasons why National Steel plants have outperformed the rest of the steel industry—and why they were viewed so favorably by a leading Japanese steelmaker, Nippon Kokan, that it bought 10 percent interest in National's steelmaking operations.

IN ESSENCE, Q4 divides conduct into four categories and offers effective responses to each of the types of performance and attitude encountered.

Those taking the course spend a full week of around-the-clock study in mastering it. Refresher instruction lasting one or two days also is provided in following years.

It is in the week-long training, usually about the fourth evening, that the students mesh so completely as a team that they learn to talk to each other in utter honesty. The team becomes a mirror for each of its members, opening the individual's eyes to how he or she is perceived by others.

MUCH MORE THAN a theory, Q4 problem-solving is an integral part of interaction within steel mills and at many other private and public enterprises across the nation, Howlett relates.

Based at Granite City Steel's training center, located in its South Plant near 14th Street, Howlett has scheduled and taught classes on a grand scale, helping hundreds of persons each year in their study of the dimensional philosophy and approaches.

Although the program has certain complexities, its goal is simple and, in fact, can be summarized in five words: Improving productivity through people skills.

CHALLENGES like this are nothing new to Howlett. His managerial and teaching roles require fast, clear thinking. The questions he answers in his classes are not voiced by unsophisticated kindergarten children, some of his students have doctoral degrees.

His initial career was that of a professional fighter. A heavyweight boxer for eight years, 1946 to 1954, he has no trouble recalling his final opponent—the late heavyweight champion, Sonny Liston.

A Baptist minister as well as an industrial personnel professional, Howlett has been featured in the national publication, Dimensional News, published by a division of Psychological Associates, Inc. It was Psychological Associates that devised Q4.

AFTER FIGHTING ring foes in such faraway places as Honolulu, Boston and Chicago, big Stan returned to his home town, Madison, to answer a new call. He entered the Baptist ministry and began work on a doctor of philosophy degree in Bible psychology.

Still physically impressive today, Howlett has steadily added new dimensions to his varied interests and abilities.

Joining Granite City Steel in 1954, he decided to continue as a pastor despite the time limitations. For a time, he preached to the parishioners on alternate Sundays.

In 1968, he received a master's degree in Bible study and production management.

HOWLETT BEGAN teaching personnel management, part time at Belleville Area College in 1971 and a month later was promoted to personnel assistant at Granite City Steel.

He later advanced to personnel counselor, minority affairs administrator, dimensional management training instructor, management training engineer and his present position as training coordinator. He reports to Frank Pugh, manager of staffing and human resources.

His first prolonged contact with the dimensional model occurred in 1976. "I saw it as an astounding discovery," he recalls. "A remarkable breakthrough in training people to deal with people."

"IT PROVIDES a framework for understanding many crucial issues that are faced daily. And it helps not just on the job, but also in class members' personal and spiritual lives."

Now experienced as pastor of a large congregation in St. Louis, Howlett sees a relationship between his weekdays and his weekends, between dimensional management and Bible study.

"My first love for dimensional approaches came when I saw there is nothing in the Q4 model and its interactional skills that would betray the moral teachings of the Scriptures."

"ALL OF WHAT dimensional training has to say is right there. When Cain killed Abel, that was a Q1 murder—a failure to communicate effectively."

"Whether we want to promote organizational cost effectiveness or a broader spiritual life, the dimensional models make a difference in what we can achieve. This link gives me a tremendous amount of energy for sharing the concepts."

The surge of energy referred to caused Howlett to want to deepen his understanding of human behavior.

AS A RESULT, he entered still another degree program, master of behavioral science.

Along with his other duties, he designed one of the interpersonal skills courses he teaches. "How to be a better subordinate."

He also handles the interpersonal skills portion of the Granite City Steel program on safety.

Howlett concentrates on DMT, dimension management training, and DAT, dimensional appraisal training. There also is a third version, DST, or dimensional sales training.

OF THE THOUSANDS trained under Howlett's guidance, 70 percent have been associated with National Steel and the other 30 percent have been from outside the immediate corporate staff.

Just as he moved about the nation in his boxing days, he occasionally travels to a teaching assignment, such as at Midwest Steel in the Chicago area.

Dimensional supervisory and evaluation techniques are separate from—but relate well to—Granite City Steel's MBO (management by objectives) program.

IT ALSO FITS in with the procedures of participatory management, in which a company makes use of production improvement ideas from employees at all levels.

Granite City Steel and other National Steel facilities have been placing emphasis on product quality, cost management and a highly motivated staff that stays attuned to changing markets and evolving customer needs.

"To survive despite constantly increasing competition, it has been important for us all to redirect our behavior to market-driven requirements. And redirecting behavior is what the dimensional approach is all about," Howlett notes.

IN ADDITION to his work with fellow employees, he has introduced DMT to hospital and school administrators, to operators of small businesses and to religious groups, including the Baptist Congress. While the groups have been diverse, they have much in common.

Exuding missionary-like zeal, Howlett says, "An hour-long presentation to each class easily generates another hour of questions. And the nature of the questions almost always reflects a personal need."

"People ask during the course, 'How can I become more Q4? How can I learn to contain my anger? How can I handle this person who is making my business or personal life so frustrating?'"

"ALL ARE HUNGRY for a way to solve problems. When they get a look at DMT, it strikes a spark. 'In my own efforts to master the skills, I made mistakes. But by trial and error, I learned to become more Q4 myself—more practical and result-minded and more considerate of others.'

"This can be learned from hard-knocks experience, but it also can be and is being learned a better way—from dimensional training."

Mitchell man ordered to pay $1,300 restitution

John Coleman, 30, of 512 Fleming St., Mitchell, has been ordered to pay a restitution of $1,300 by Madison County Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick. Coleman also was given a two-year conditional discharge and ordered to pay $95 in court costs.

Coleman pleaded guilty last month to a 1982 charge of felony theft.

Dr. Levin appointed to Commerce Commission

Governor James R. Thompson on Monday appointed Stanford L. Levin as a member of the Illinois Commerce Commission. Levin, 38, Edwardsville, has been an associate professor of economics at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville since 1972.

"Stanford Levin will be an outstanding member of the commission," the governor said. "His expertise in the areas of electric utilities, public utilities, antitrust laws and economic impact analysis will serve him, and citizens of Illinois, well as a member of the ICC."

Levin received a bachelor degree in economics from Grinnell College in 1968 and master's and doctorate degrees in economics from the University of Michigan in 1970 and 1974.

He is a member of 11 economic organizations, including the American Economic Association and the National Association of Business Economists, and serves as a trustee on the Illinois Economic Association.

Levin replaces Dr. Charles G. Station, who resigned in July. Levin will be paid $38,000 a year as a member of the ICC. His appointment, effective immediately, requires Senate confirmation.

THROWN CONCRETE DAMAGES '80 AUTO

A vandal hurled a large piece of concrete, breaking the rear window on a parked auto belonging to Laura Werth, 2509 Hodges Ave., she reported late last week.

The concrete missile also damaged a front seat in the vehicle and struck the dash, glancing upward and smashing into the windshield. Considerable damage was caused to the auto, reports noted.

Weddings & anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph (Marian) Kastelic

Joseph Kastelics mark 25th anniversary year

Police Sergeant and Mrs. Joseph Kastelic of Granite City were honored at a surprise dinner party recently in observance of their 25th wedding anniversary.

Family members and friends gathered at Ravanelli's Restaurant, where the celebration was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Bailey.

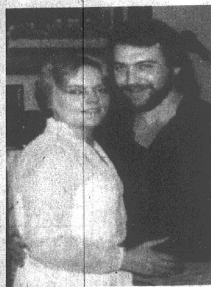

Sgt. Kastelic, a 31-year police veteran, and the former Marian Tayon were married Nov. 14, 1959 at St. Joseph Catholic Church. The couple presently are members of St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church.

The officer has been a member of the Granite City Police Department since May 15, 1953.

Among the special guests at the dinner were Mrs. Joseph (Ann) Kastelic and Mrs. Joseph (Clara) Tayon, mothers of the honorees, both of Granite City, and the couple's daughters, Donna and Julie Kastelic, and the latter's fiancé, John Nicol.

Other guests honoring the Kastelics were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bertacchi and sons, Rick and Bret, Miss Kathy Bailey, Mrs. Helen Holder, Mrs. Ruth McClew, Mr. and Mrs. James Dutchik, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kime, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevenson and sons, Tim and Ted, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Tayon, Mrs. Florence Burnett, Frank Hahn and Mrs. Delores Hendricks and son, Keith.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Keese

Keese-Edwards

Susan Kathryn Edwards, of Granite City, became the bride of Daniel Michael Keese, of St. Charles, Mo., on Nov. 18 at the Old Camp Meeting Tabernacle, 2137 Bryan Ave.

The Rev. Charles Cox officiated at the 4 o'clock afternoon ceremony. Parents of the bride are Mrs. Myrtle Gray, 1911 Skee St., Madison, and Jewel Gray of Nortonville, Ky. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel (Retha) Keese of Ironton, Mo.

Cheryl Gray, a sister of the bride, served as honor attendant and Richard Bodi, son of the bride, was the best man.

The bride attended Madison High School, and the groom attended high school in Ironton, Mo. He is employed as a steelworker at Cold Drawn Inc. in St. Louis.

They are residing in Granite City.

Sr. Airman and Mrs. Brian Arnold

Arnold-Lopez

The wedding of Blanca Lydia Lopez, formerly of Larado, Texas, and Senior Airman Brian J. Arnold was solemnized on Oct. 16, at 4 p.m. in Minot, N.D., where the couple is stationed.

Parents of the bride are TSGT Tony C. Lopez and SSOT Laduan L. Lopez, both stationed in Germany. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

George C. Arnold Jr., of Granite City.

A reception was hosted for the wedding party at the home of friends in Minot.

The newlywed couple will arrive in Granite City in February for a visit before being transferred to Germany for a 3-year tour of duty.

Smith-Thalmann

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 2510 West 20th St., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Vicki, to Ted S. Thalmann.

Parents of the groom-elect are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Thalmann, 2001 Thirteenth St.

Miss Smith, a 1983 graduate of Granite City High School, is in her first year of study at Jewish Hospital School of Nursing in St. Louis.

Her fiancé, a 1981 graduate of Granite City High School South, is currently in his fourth year at St. Louis College of Pharmacy. He also is employed in the pharmacy at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Wedding plans are indefinite at the present time.

Handicraft Club plans yule dinner

The Handicraft Club met for dinner at Ravanelli's Restaurant for dinner, last week, and later went to the home of Mrs. Irene Kadanec for a meeting and card games.

Plans were finalized to host a Christmas party at the First Seasons Restaurant.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing card games and celebrating the birthday of the hostess. The honoree received gifts from each member.

Others attending were Frances Vivod, Ann Mega, Gladys Skubish, Katie Fedora and Alexandra Severine. Prizes were won by Mrs. Fedora and Mrs. Vivod.

Historical Society to host Christmas dinner

The Old Six Mile Historical Society will have a Christmas potluck dinner at 6 p.m. Monday, Dec. 3, at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

Marguerite Lexow and Georgia Engleke will host the dinner, with Linda Koenig singing several Christmas songs. She will be accompanied on the piano by Barbara Williams. Other plans call for music to be provided by the Rev. Dale Scott on the dulcimer.

Members are urged to bring "Gifts of Long Ago."

6 Good Reasons To Have Your Baby At St. Elizabeth Medical Center

- CLASSES For those mothers who plan to have their babies at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, a variety of free classes are available to help expectant parents from the early months of pregnancy to caring for the newborns. Taught by registered nurses from the SEMC Obstetrics Department, classes include Early Pregnancy, Childbirth Preparation, Transition to Parenthood and Infant CPR.
- MATERNITY GUARANTEED RATE PROGRAM Approximately 30 percent less than a conventional maternity plan, the Maternity Guaranteed Rate Program provides prospective parents with advanced knowledge regarding financial liability and allows them to pay delivery costs before the baby's arrival. Depending on which plan you choose, mothers can expect only a 2 or 3-day hospital stay.
- BIRTHING ROOM SEMC's new Birthing Room allows parents to share the birthing process within a family centered environment. The Birthing Room, located adjacent to the conventional labor and delivery rooms and is staffed with two registered nurses.
- ROOMING-IN PROGRAM Some mothers would prefer to keep their babies in their rooms rather than have them stay in the hospital nursery. With the Rooming-In Program, babies are allowed to stay in the room with their mothers from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Fathers may visit or stay from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. A bassinets and all items necessary for care of the baby are provided. Supervision and assistance by the nursery registered nurses is always available.
- FATHER'S HOUR During normal visiting hours the baby is not in the mother's room. Therefore, an extension of the visiting hours has been set aside from 8 p.m. to 9 p.m. when the father will have an opportunity to hold and/or feed the baby.
- THE STORK CLUB Every new mother is a charter member of SEMC's Stork Club. Along with a guest, mothers dine from the special gourmet menu prepared just for Stork Club members only.
- SEMC AND YOU The classes and services for expectant families are often the beginning of a lifelong relationship between the hospital, the physicians and the families in this community. All physicians are board certified, and compared to other area hospitals, SEMC is centrally located and just minutes from any Metro-East city.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP CAMPERS. Members of Boy Scout Troop 96 of Maryville School at the Old Six Mile Historical Museum. They later hiked to the Leroy Stark farm on Maryville Road for the weekend event. Attending were, Matt Scarsdale, Tim and Kevin Mudd, Adam and David Klee, Darrell Young, Mike Charbonnier, Darrell and Nick Schaefer, Jeff Graf, David and Mark Chapman, Bryan McKechan, Daniel Grayson, James Hayes, Scoutmasters Bob Young, Ron Crippen, John Klee, Bud Charbonnier and Bob Grayson.

'Christmas Around the World' scheduled Saturday at SIUE

"Christmas Around the World" a three hour extravaganza of songs, games, crafts and entertainment will be conducted for Brownie Girl Scouts on Saturday, Dec. 1, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Girls will have the opportunity to make some gifts for members of their families and to make their own wrapping paper. Also, the Muncy Student Theatre Project will present a special Christmas production.

There are 1,400 Brownie scouts registered for the council wide project but there is still time to register according to River Bluffs Council officials.

There will be two separate sessions with the first one from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the second session. Cost per participant is $4.75 with a limit of 800 girls per session.

Registration may be made by calling Debbie Marshall at the council office at 345-1606 through Friday.

Brownie Troop 323 hosts investiture

Brownie Troop 323, first grade students from Mitchell School, held an investiture ceremony, last week, at Chouteau Township Hall.

A candlelight procession by the girls opened the evening. Guests were welcomed by Troop Leader Kathy Schilling. Co-leaders Debbie Wallace, Kris Hamilton and Vera Bloomquist were introduced.

The Brownies entertained with special songs and recited the Brownie Promise, and a flag ceremony was performed under the direction of Mrs. Wallace. Flagbearers and color guards were Amy Schilling, Jamie Wallace, Danielle Rinehart, Jamie Dummitt, Amanda Timmons and Melinda Colbert.

Medications are subject of meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Better Breathers club recently was conducted in Pascal Hall at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Mike Weaver, pharmacist at the medical center, was the guest speaker. He talked about medications that are used to improve breathing.

According to Weaver, most medications used for breathing are Theophyllin derivatives. This medicine helps keep secretion from the lungs and bronchial areas.

He advised that great care should be used so as not to over-medicate with sprays. Such an overdose can lead to heartburn, headaches, nausea and heart palpitations. Weaver emphasized that liquids should be taken in conjunction with each dosage.

Following Weaver's presentation, the minutes were read and approved. A report of the bake sale success also was given. Winners of a recent fund-raiser were Evelyn Theaumont, Fred Flaughter and Dorothy Parkinson. The money raised through the fund-raiser will be used to buy extra food for Christmas baskets. All members brought canned goods to help with the baskets for the needy.

Christmas party plans are complete, it was reported. The party is scheduled for Dec. 5. Further information is available by calling the pulmonary rehab unit at SEMC. Refreshments were served by the dietary department at SEMC. Forty-six members, visitors and associates attended the meeting. The next meeting will be Jan. 5 in Pascal Hall.

Ridenour named to development council

Aaron Ridenour, economic development coordinator for Madison County Community Development, was elected to the board of directors of the Illinois Development Council (IDC) at its annual meeting.

Michael Boer, vice-president of development and planning for The Greater Springfield Chamber of Commerce and president of the Springfield Central Area Development Association, was elected president of the IDC at the same meeting.

The IDC, made up of more than 250 economic development professionals from both private and public sectors, is devoted to development of industry and commerce throughout Illinois.

Other new officers for the council include: Eric Pitcher, marketing specialist in the Chicago office of the state Department of Commerce and Community Affairs—vice president; Franklyn Moreno, director of economic development for the city of Carbondale—secretary; and Alan Richardson, area development representative in the Beardstown office of Central Illinois Public Service Co.—treasurer.

Boy Scout Troop attends campout

Boy Scout Troop 96, sponsored by Maryville School PTA, started a winter campout by meeting at McDonald's for breakfast followed by a hike to the Leroy Stark farm on Maryville Road.

Enroute to the farm the scouts stopped at the Six Mile Historical Museum where Mrs. Georgia Engleke gave a brief history of the Zippel House. She also discussed the possibility of the scouts doing service projects for the museum.

While there the group viewed the smoke house, the wash room and continued their hike.

Upon arrival at the campout site the scouts settled in the barn and enjoyed lunch. During the afternoon they held a scavenger hunt and participated in a football game. For the supper meal they prepared fresh fish, caught recently by Assistant Scoutmaster John Klee and during the evening they enjoyed a campfire with skills and songs.

The scouts awoke Sunday morning to find snow on the ground, fixed breakfast and hiked to the home of Scoutmaster Bud Charbonnier then departed for their homes.

Troop members are working toward a hiking jubilee patch, the scoutmaster said.

Autumn party for Brownie Troop

The annual autumn party for members of Brownie Troop 323 of Mitchell School was held in the school cafeteria. Each scout wore a costume of their own design for the event.

Participating in the social affair were Michelle Bringer, Melody Potts, Michele Chandler, Jamie Wallace, Jill Harmon, Nicole Hamilton, Erik Hamilton, Jamie Dummitt, Stacy Sansoucie, Amy Schilling, Theresa Dames, Hillary Sanders, Christina Ragan, Danielle Rinehart, Amanda Timmons, Dena Mayes, Lori Gaudette, Melinda Colbert, Jill Wozniak, Shelly Green, Christi Castile, Hillary Ryan, Christine Sansoucie and Troop Leader Kathy Schilling.

Marriage Licenses

'Christmas Festival' in Venice

The River Bluffs Girl Scout Council will host a special "Christmas Festival" in Venice, on Saturday, Dec. 1, at the New Salem Baptist Church, 1340 Klein St., according to an announcement from the council offices.

The event will be from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and is open to girls in grades one through six who are not currently in a Girl Scout Troop or who participated in the Octobers Sports and More project, the officers added.

During the day long program the girls will make Christmas crafts, play game, sing, listen to stories and learn folk dances.

The fee for those attending is $4 which covers membership in Girl Scouts for one year and all supplies for the day. Financial assistance is available upon request, the council office explained.

For those girls who attended the Octobers Sports and More affair the fee is set at $1 only.

Girls should wear comfortable clothes and tennis shoes and bring a sack lunch with a drink to be provided.

For more information or to register for the event those interested are advised to call Char McAllister at the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council office, 345-1606.

Doris Glasgow heads Ladies-In-Action

Doris Glasgow was elected president of the Ladies-In-Action of Briarcliff Pentecostal Church at a meeting Monday night. She will assume the office in 1985, succeeding Sue Roe.

Mrs. Roe, the current president, gave the opening prayer and also offered the devotional topic, based on Isaiah 55.

Other officers chosen were Bonnie Davis, secretary and Bertha Dix, treasurer. Mrs. Roe will serve as vice president next year.

The group heard that funds pledged last month to Dr. John, a physician in India, will be used to purchase hospital equipment. The medical doctor addressed the women's organization at its October meeting.

Mrs. Roe announced the annual Christmas dinner party will take place Dec. 10, starting at 7 p.m., at Charlie's Restaurant.

Roe and Doris Glasgow. Also attending were Opal Orrell, Dorothy Dickerson, Torma Tolbert, Dot Smith and Lillian Barton.

Reservations open for shopping trip

There are still 20 reservations open for the shopping trip to Crestwood Shopping Center in St. Louis, sponsored by the Granite City Park District.

The one day trip is for Wednesday, Dec. 6, with the bus to leave the ice skating rink parking lot at 9:30 a.m. and return at 4:30 p.m.

Cost of the bus ride is $6.50 and those interested are to go to the park district office no later than 5 p.m. Friday, to pay the advance transportation fee.

If the additional reservations are not received the trip will be cancelled, according to the park office secretary.

There are 140 stores and several restaurants in the shopping center to visit, she added.

Adult ice skating sessions may end

The Granite City Park District may have to discontinue the adult ice skating sessions now scheduled for the morning hours if participation does not increase, according to the park officials.

Due to lack of interest in the morning session the park office announces they will wait until Friday, Dec. 7, to encourage more skaters.

Mitchell news

Chouteau Township Senior Citizens held their November meeting at the Township Hall. The 82 in attendance enjoyed a Thanksgiving dinner. The Rev. William Richardson asked the blessing.

President Josephine Burgen opened the meeting. Marie Whyers and Sally Segar presented the American and township flag and the pledge was said in unison.

The birthdays of Mary Fowler, Fred Segar, Hazel Sparks and Maxine Dunham were observed. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Stearns celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pickering noted their 51st wedding anniversary.

Special honors went to Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Monroe, who were guests from Waterloo. They are former members.

Four new members were enrolled, and prizes went to Charles Norris, William Richardson and James Schieb.

Program Chairman Lillian Delps gave a report on a bus trip planned for the members. The bus will leave the Township Hall, Nov. 29 at 5 p.m. and go to Cottonwood Station, where the group will have dinner at Walton's Restaurant. From there they will go to the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, at Belleville. Those wishing to attend may call Lillian Delps or Josephine Burgen to make reservations.

The Dec. 13 meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. Members are to bring their favorite covered dishes. Ham will be furnished by the organization.

Members are to bring canned goods for baskets for the needy. There will be a gift exchange for Christmas by the members.

The executive board will meet at 1 p.m. Dec. 6 at the Township Hall.

Mrs. Dorothy Bussen and daughter, Pam, have returned to their home at Noron, Kan. They visited Mrs. Eunice Price and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Franko have returned home from a ten-day cruise in the Caribbean, celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ron Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dodd.

YMCA drive hits 44%

The Tri-City Area YMCA's sustaining fund drive to assist in paying bank obligations and for general improvements to the building reached 44 percent during the second report meeting Tuesday morning.

Area businessmen and individuals are being contacted by members of the YMCA Board of Directors and asking to pledge tax-deductible funds to the YMCA for either the 1984 or 1985 tax years. Funds received prior to Dec. 31 can be taken off 1984 income taxes.

The goal of the drive is $20,000.

Santa's Village at Maryville School

A replica of Santa's Village will be set up at Maryville School on Saturday, Dec. 1, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will also feature Jolly Ole St. Nick sitting in his rocking chair.

Visitors will find the school transformed by Christmas magic into a small village of seven shops. There will be the Peppermint Shop where guests will receive a peppermint stick and a souvenir toy at Santa's Toy Shoppe.

Other places to visit will be Santa's Pet Shoppe, Mrs. Claus Cookie Kitchen to taste her famous homemade cookies, tour Dream Land where one can recall the story "Twas the Night Before Christmas, and the final stop will be in Santa's living room where there is a gift for each child.

Admission to the village will cost $1.25 per person if purchased in advance in the school office or by calling 931-2284 or 931-0096. Tickets may also be purchased at the door Saturday but they will cost $1.50.

Santa's Gift Shoppe, located in the hallway of the school may be visited at no charge to the patron, the chairman explained.

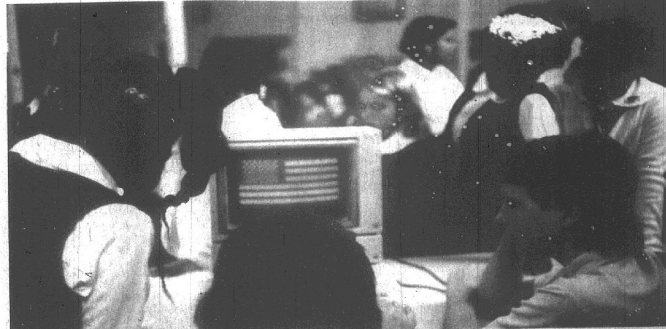

Highlight of a visit to the seasonal event will be going to Santa's Cafeteria where hot and cold drinks as well as cupcakes will be served.

Entertainment will include area church groups performing musical programs. First Assembly of God group will present its musical from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; Grace Baptist from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m.; Girl Scouts from 2 p.m. to 2:15 p.m.; Tri-City Park Belles, 3 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. and John Hatuel, 4 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Local Rotarians to host foreign students

Granite City Rotary and Madison-Venice Rotary are among 10 clubs hosting a Rotary District 646 youth exchange weekend tomorrow and Saturday in Bethalto. Some of the 36 foreign students now in the district will stay overnight in Quad-City area Rotarians' homes.

Talks by high school students from Germany, Finland, Holland, France, New Zealand and other nations are set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday, with a dinner following at 6:30 at Civic Memorial High School. Entertainment by students is set for 7:30.

COMPUTER VOTE. The eighth grade students at St. Mary-St. Mark School participated in the general election by sponsoring a mock election at their school on election day. The main organizers of the event were Becky Garcia, Christopher Gushleff, Terri Romanic, Joe Martinez and Chrissy Krakowicki, who adapted a special computer program to allow the students to vote by the school's computers. With 163 votes cast, President Reagan won by one vote.

County hospice members attend symposium

Nina Millett and Lois Lybarger represented the Hospice of Madison County at the National Hospice Organization's annual meeting and symposium this month.

Activities at the meeting included a comprehensive array of pre-conference sessions concerning pain and symptom control, management dilemmas of the rural hospice and stress management in hospice programs. There also were 90 workshops offered, which were designed to address the concerns of clinical and administrative personnel.

Research presentations also were made on such issues as children and death, volunteerism, stress and coping among nurses, and cost benefit analyses of home and hospital hospice care.

A special celebration honored the 10th anniversary of hospice in the country and the fact that November has been designated by Congress and the president as National Hospice Month.

Special guests during the meeting included: syndicated columnist Dr. Timothy Johnson; John Eklins, vice-president of the National Group and author of "Megatrends," and Morris Abrams, author of "The Day is Short" and partner in the New York law firm of Paul, Weiss, Rifkind, Wharton & Garrison.

The meeting provided an opportunity to share ideas and information with more than 1,000 hospice caregivers. Anyone interested in the subject area or other matters may contact the Hospice of Madison County at 798-3399.

Cabbage Patch doll contest in Venice

The Venice Park District's recreation department will offer two Cabbage Patch dolls in a pre-holiday contest for children. It was announced this week by Arnold Johnson, president of the Venice Board of Park Commissioners.

All Venice youngsters between the ages of 2 and 8 years are eligible to enter by sending a postcard with his or her name, address, age and telephone number to: Venice Park District, 323 Broadway, Venice, Ill. 62090.

The entries must be postmarked prior to Dec. 13, Johnson said. The winning names will be selected Thursday, Dec. 13, at the Venice Recreation Center, the park board president reported.

Christian Book Store in Pontoon Beach

Sonshine Unlimited, a new Christian book and gift shop, opened last week at 4025 Pontoon Road, in Pontoon Beach, by Carole Canady the new owner.

She was in charge of the bookmobile department of the Granite City Public Library for 18 years and decided to retire from the library and open a shop that specializes in books and gifts.

"I enjoy books, Christian and classical music and creative gifts that I have exhibited in the store," the owner explained.

Mrs. Canady added, "The joy I've had working with the children and adults of Granite City all these years is something I'll always treasure. Children are very special to me, and our shop will reflect their importance. We will have in addition to books, records and cassettes, plush toys, and other children's gift items."

"We have provided areas where customers can sit or browse through the merchandise at their leisure and we also have a large selection of greeting cards and stamps available for purchase," Mrs. Canady said.

There are invitations for parties and wedding and Christmas cards and the line will be expanded in January as well as a video taping service for weddings and other events after the first of the year.

A copy machine is available to the public for fifteen cents per copy.

The store will provide a book ordering service where, in addition to Christian books, most other published books may be ordered. "We will have a micho-fiche program that will note the availability of most books immediately and orders should not take longer than one week for delivery," Mrs. Canady said.

The music department will feature contemporary Christian and classical music and when completed there will be an extensive library of accompaniment tapes.

Some of the craft items displayed for sale are locally hand made articles and others are manufactured.

Hours until Christmas will be from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and on Sunday the store will open from 1 to 5 p.m. For additional information those interested may call 797-0420.

Christmas music Sunday at 1st Assembly of God

A program of Christmas music will be presented at 3:15 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2, at the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, it was announced today.

The public is invited to attend and there will be no admission charge.

Appearing on the program will be Dan Vizer, who will perform a selection of seasonal organ music.

Rhonda E. Collins of East St.

Louis and Thon Wheeler of Centralia will sing familiar Christmas songs and selections from Handel's Messiah.

Both vocalists have won numerous competitions and have performed with orchestras and opera companies across the United States.

Mrs. Sotiroff presents lesson

Mrs. Clara Sotiroff presented the devotional lesson at a meeting of the Harmony Sunday School Class conducted during the weekend at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

Her topic was entitled, "A Promise Kept 4,000 Years," and described the many predictions made concerning the birth and life of Jesus many years before they actually happened.

Harold Lynn opened the session with prayer and the president, Cleveland Cox presided over the business session.

Final plans were announced for the monetary Christmas gifts to be given to the church and other charities. The annual party for the group will be held Thursday, Dec. 20, at Romine's in St. Louis with John and Ethel Lerch serving as hosts.

After the closing poem, "One Word at a Time," by the president, refreshments were served by hosts, Waldo and Dorothy Frohardt, Bessie Milton and Mrs. Sotiroff.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Jamie Hamrick, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stuch, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Cox, Esther Traylor, Marie Toth, Gladys Potillo, Ida Cariss, Esther Clements, Blanche DeBow and Virgil Morris.

Presbyterian groups meet

The three circle groups of the First United Presbyterian Church met for their monthly session and all discussed the association potluck dinner on Dec. 4 and reviewed the results of the annual Christmas bazaar.

The Morning Circle gathered in the church parlor with Mrs. Ethel Beeler serving as acting chairman for the meeting.

The Year Book of Prayer was given by Julia Benfield, the Least Coin presentation by Lois Daniel and the Bible Study was by Mrs. Beeler.

Refreshments were served by Bernadine Cooley and Burdine Holtzsch, hostesses for the day.

Mrs. Edna Eberidge hosted the Afternoon Circle meeting in the church parlor and Mrs. Bess Henley, circle chairman, presided.

Mrs. Arline Fox delivered the Year Book of Prayer, Mrs. Irene Gray gave the Least Coin presentation and Mrs. Gladys Pape was in charge of the Bible Study.

Guest for the session was Mrs. Betty Schmiedake, president of the United Presbyterian Women.

Members of the Evening Circle met in the home of Mrs. Schmiedake, 2522 Grand Ave., for their monthly session.

Carla Ashmore, circle chairman, conducted a business discussion and led the Year Book of Prayer segment.

The Least Coin devotions were by Mrs. Schmiedake and the Bible Study by Mrs. Betty Kelso.

Lydia Circle donates holiday contribution

Lydia Circle of the Nameoki United Methodist Church met in the home of Marie Isenburg for their November meeting.

After refreshments, the president Mary Bailey opened the business meeting. The secretary and treasurer reports were read and the birthday monies for the year will be sent to the children's home in Mount Vernon, as a Christmas gift.

The circle will be in charge of the Dec. 10th meeting of United Methodist Women at the church. Gladys Russell asked for volunteers to participate in program.

It was decided to have a Christmas party on Dec. 13th at Burns Cafeteria.

Devotions were read by Mary Bailey, entitled, "You Took the Time." "This is the day we give thanks to our Father," Psalms 100:4 and 5. Gladys Russell gave "His Promises," 1 John 4:18 and closed with a prayer.

Alta Stewart, a guest, told of her recent trip to Nashville, planned by a local church.

The following were present for the session: Dorothy Sinnott, Mary Bailey, Gladys Russell, Bess Rucker, Effie Vrenick, Lucille Webb, Mildred Hess, Tharah Erney, Alta Stewart, Marie Isenburg.

Mammography unit detects 10 tumors

Anderson Hospital, Maryville, this week announced that 10 non-palpable breast tumors have been detected through use of a mammography unit installed in April. A non-palpable tumor is one that would not be detected through self-examination or a physician's examination.

Each of the breast tumors found by the low-radiation unit was later confirmed through surgical biopsy. In addition, tissue from the biopsy sample matched the original finding. "The detection of breast tumors early in their development increases the probability that, with proper treatment, a woman's breast may be saved," said Dr. Steven Nuernberger, chief pathologist.

ANN CORBITT

Bethesda Baptist hires new director

Ann Corbitt assumed the duties of music and youth director at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3035 Nameoki Drive, at the beginning of this month, according to the Rev. Luther Abbott, pastor.

Miss Corbitt is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School South and is presently attending Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she is majoring in business administration.

She also is president of the Baptist Student Union at SIUE and also is secretary of the SIUE Concert Chorus. During the summer months, Miss Corbitt served as a missionary in Oklahoma.

The new director is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James (LaVerna) Corbitt of Granite City.

MADISON CHURCH OF GOD TO FEATURE SINGERS SATURDAY

The Madison Church of God, 1536 Fourth St., Madison, will feature two singing groups at services this Saturday, Dec. 1. The Soul Searchers and Unbroken Circle will perform at the 7:30 p.m. gathering.

The general public is welcome to attend the services.

FIVE SHARE $13 MILLION

Five persons each won $2,788,200—$139,410 annually for 20 years—in the Illinois lottery results announced Monday. A total of 1,497 earned $820 each and $6,560 will get $32 apiece. A $6.5 million grand prize has been guaranteed for this weekend.

THE CHOSEN ONES. A musical group who will present a program on Sunday at 10 a.m. at Central Baptist Church, in conjunction with Sunday School Rally Day.

Sunday School Rally Day set

A Sunday School Rally Day will be held this Sunday, Dec. 2, 10 a.m. at Central Baptist Church, 3940 Highway 111.

"The Chosen Ones" will present a gospel concert beginning at 10, and the "Ralphie and Friends" puppet feature will be presented to the children's churches. The music of the singers ranges from hymns to a touch of southern gospel.

Traveling through 15 states, through the media of television, radio and personal appearances, the ministry of "The Chosen Ones" is enjoyed by young and old alike.

Other special features of the day will include a gift for all adult visitors and awarding of Cabbage Patch Dolls and footballs. The evening service will include a musical sing-along. Everyone is invited to these Rally Day services, Rev. Wayne Musatics, said.

Hanging of Greens at Nameoki Presbyterian

The "Hanging of the Greens" will be held this Sunday, Dec. 2, 9 a.m. in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church. "This will mark the beginning of an inspirational Advent Season planned for the friends and members of our church," announces Pastor Pierson.

The congregation will be observing Advent Communion in the 10:15 a.m. service, Sunday, Dec. 2nd, he added.

A "Christmas Festival" planned for this Sunday evening at 6 p.m. will help fill the Christmas baskets to be delivered by the Deacons later in the month. Tickets for the widely varied booths can be purchased by the donation of food items. "The more you bring, the more tickets you will receive, and the more fun you will have," said Judy Hankins. She and her committee have been hard at work preparing for this all-church and community event. "Pin-the-Star," Gift Toss, "Christmas Cookie Decorating," and a movie with popcorn will be featured.

A "Christmas Tree of Love" will enable the members of the congregation to provide a special gift for Dennis and Patty Morman, missionaries with Campus Crusade. A $2 donation for the young couple will light a light.

A "Christmas Potpourri" and Carol Sing will take place at 7 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 16th. "Carols old and new plus many other holiday surprises will be offered," announced Beverly Scroggins.

Louise Anderson, Earl French, and Carla Voyles were elected to the Session, which is the governing body of the church on Nov. 25th. Jean Francis and JoAnn Watts were elected to the Board of Deacons, Debra Yokely was elected church treasurer and Kathryn Pomeroy was chosen as financial secretary. Special Projects Treasurer will be Mary French. The installation of the new officers is set for Dec. 30th, the minister added.

"Come Home for Christmas" is being highlighted in the Advent Season," announced Pastor Pierson.

Advent celebration at St. John UCC

St. John United Church of Christ, 2901 Nameoki Road, will begin their annual preparation for Christmas with the first Sunday of Advent, this Sunday, Dec. 2. Divine worship services will be held at 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m., and Holy Communion will be celebrated at both services according to Rev. Allen J. Reiter, pastor.

Members of the Altar Guild under the direction of Dorothy Johannigmeier will decorate the sanctuary and exterior of the building with the traditional "Hanging of the Greens" garlands prior to Sunday morning. The first of four special Advent candles will be lit on Sunday morning.

Under the direction of Alan R. Milster, the Chancel Choir will perform Gustav Holst's arrangement of "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence."

The St. John tree, which traditionally soars 20-feet toward the sanctuary ceiling, and adorned with priceless Christmas ornaments, will be on display beginning Dec. 17.

A.O. Smith may sell agricultural products divisions

A.O. Smith Corporation has announced a plan to emphasize the company's industrial and data processing businesses and withdraw from the agricultural market.

Thomas I. Dolan, chairman and chief executive officer, said the board of directors has approved a strategic plan to concentrate the resources of the company in A.O. Smith's non-agricultural businesses where significant growth opportunities exist.

"We have a multitude of opportunities in all of our businesses and we have decided to focus in the industrial and data processing areas, which hold greater promise for above-average return on investment," Dolan said.

"This new strategy gives us the opportunity to strengthen our leadership in automobile and truck structural products, electric motors, commercial and residential water heating equipment, reinforced plastic piping systems and computer services, especially the high growth electronic funds transfer business."

"We have been and plan to continue to invest major capital dollars in cost reduction programs, improved manufacturing systems and product development in the industrial and data processing businesses in order to take advantage of the opportunities before us."

As a consequence of this new strategy, the company plans to sell A.O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., its subsidiary, A.O. Smith Harvestore Products, Ltd. (England), and the Farm Management Products division, AgriStor Credit Corporation, and A.O. Smith subsidiary which assists dealers and farm customers in the purchase of A.O. Smith Harvestore equipment.

Depending on the buyer's desire, a decision to sell or gradually phase out AgriStor will be made at that time, but that decision would not affect the then outstanding transactions. A.O. Smith will account for AgriStor on a discontinued basis, effective immediately.

This decision, together with a write-off of some other excess manufacturing facilities, will result in a one-time after-tax charge against fourth quarter earnings of approximately $36 million, or $4.85 per share, Dolan said. The agricultural units will be accounted for on a discontinued basis.

This action will have a positive effect on A.O. Smith earnings from continuing operations since the agricultural related businesses have experienced significant losses for the past two years and are expected to report sizeable losses for 1984.

"These subsidiaries have performed well in the past and will do so again when the farm economy recovers," Dolan said, "but our capital needs and the opportunities we see in our other businesses require this action."

"The agricultural companies will continue to operate in a very positive way until suitable buyers can be found," Dolan said. "The established Harvestore, Slurrystore and automated livestock feeding equipment lines, along with the newer, Aquastore and Permags structures for water storage and industrial use, offer an attractive acquisition package. We think a company with a primary commitment to agriculture and an interest in industrial diversification would have a strong interest in such an acquisition. The outstanding authorized, independent dealer organizations, which Harvestore Products will continue to support and develop, combined with the existing diversified product line, indicate the breadth of the company's marketing and manufacturing capabilities."

A.O. Smith Harvestore was founded in 1949 when A.O. Smith Corporation developed a method of manufacturing feed storage structures which load from the top and unload from the bottom and limit the amount of oxygen which comes in contact with the feed. Some 70,000 units have been sold to farmers in the U.S. and Canada. A.O. Smith Harvestore Products, Ltd., based in England, manufactures and markets the same product line outside of North America.

Dolan said the company also has decided to sell the Farm Management Products division, which markets computers with specially designed software to livestock farmers.

Sales of agricultural products in 1983 amounted to $62 million, or a little more than 7 percent of total A.O. Smith sales. Pre-tax losses from agricultural products in 1983, excluding AgriStor, amounted to $14.1 million. Prior to 1982, when the farm economy went into recession, A.O. Smith Harvestore had been profitable. Its best year occurred in 1979 when sales amounted to $140 million and it reported pre-tax earnings of $14.2 million.

Total sales of A.O. Smith in 1983 were $853 million, with the Automotive Products Company accounting for $227 million. The company's two electric motor businesses had sales of $133 million. Total corporate after-tax profits last year amounted to $13.6 million.

So far in 1984, all major operating companies, except those related to agriculture, are reporting sales and earnings ahead of last year.

Allege drinking by minors

Drinking by minors was alleged last week by Granite City police, who said Geo's Lounge was so crowded that they had difficulty walking about among the "wall to wall people."

Four girls objected that they were being made an example while other teenagers avoided arrest in the 12:08 a.m. visit by police.

Booked as being under the age of 21 and in possession of alcohol were Stephanie Ryan, 19, of 2500 Westmoreland Drive, Brigitte S. Kitle, 18, of 2138 Edison Ave., Angela J. Durborow, 18, of 2559 Edwards St. and Tammie F. Parrish, 17, of 2320 Zippel Ave. Each was released on a notice to appear later for a hearing.

Authorities quoted Misses Ryan and Kitle as saying they had walked in without being challenged. Geo's manager, Dennis Roderick, disagreed, saying everyone is checked to verify age of 21 or older.

Children's Aid Society offers new cookbook

The Jersey County Auxiliary of the Children's Home and Aid Society of Illinois has published the "Our What to Serve and How to Fix It" cookbook, which includes recipes and menus that can be adapted to serve a hundred people or more.

The $10 cookbook can be purchased in time for Christmas from Martha Wieland at 1-488-2720, or from the society's regional office, 1002 College Ave., Alton, telephone 1-462-2714.

The Jersey County Auxiliary was formed in 1973 to develop and encourage interest in the child-centered work of the society. The cookbook is offered in response to requests for auxiliary recipes, and is designed to enhance the understanding of the agency's work and needs.

For further information about the society, interested persons may call Margaret L. Maher at 1-462-2714.

WARRANTS ARE SERVED, WOMAN FREED ON BOND

Geneva L. Chastain, 29, of 2040 Missouri Ave., was escorted by an Illinois State trooper from the parking lot of a store on Collinsville Road at Route 111 last week to Granite City police headquarters in response to two warrants on file.

The warrants alleged failure to appear in court on a speeding charge and failure to appear on a charge of criminal damage to property. Both documents were issued in October by Associate Judge Nicholas G. Byron.

Mrs. Chastain was released after posting a $204 cash bond.

MEMORIAL DONATION. Kevin Sampson, caretaker at Calvary Cemetery, Edwardsville Township, holds up an American flag, which was recently donated to the cemetery, in memory of the late Capt. David Fuzessery. Fuzessery, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Julia) Fuzessery of Granite City, was killed in an air crash, while on war maneuver training with the U.S. Marine Corps. The flag was donated by Fuzessery's parents and his uncle Steve Konkovich.

Construction permits okayed

Granite City aldermen approved two petitions for construction at the council meeting last week.

Both petitions were approved by the city's Board of Appeals earlier. The first request was from Lewis Zeffor Sr., 2408 Cardinal Ave., for construction of a 13-by-27-foot carport to be built one foot from the side property line. The petition was approved subject to installing proper guttering.

The second request was from Laveada Knobbe, 2 Frontenac Lane, for construction of a 14-by-30-foot attached garage, to be built 17 feet from the side property line. The petition was approved subject to proper guttering.

CHARGES IN MISHAP AT MADISON-NAMEOKI

Robert R. Dunham, 40, of 2504 W. 20th St., was charged with leaving the scene of an accident with vehicle damage and not having a valid license (suspended in the state of Texas), following an accident during the weekend at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue.

A license number was obtained and Dunham's car was located in the 2100 block of Pontoon Road and he was arrested. He was released at 3:10 p.m. Sunday upon posting a $102 cash bond.

Richard L. Heath, 26, of 2305 Gary Ave., said he was entering Nameoki Road from Charlie's Restaurant parking lot when his car was involved in the collision with Dunham's auto, which turned north on Nameoki from Madison Avenue. Heath sustained a minor injury, reports stated.

ACCIDENT INJURES TWO AT ITH-MADISON

Two persons sustained minor injuries in a recent accident on Madison Avenue at 12th Street in Madison, involving vehicles operated by Willie Crowden, 51, of St. Louis, and Terry Johnson, 31, of 427a Broadway, Venice.

Mrs. Johnson and a passenger in her car, Nancy Jones, 44 Venice Homes, Venice, suffered minor injuries, reports said.

SERVE TWO WARRANTS

John L. Ishum, 28, of 2220 Missouri Ave., was taken into custody at West 20th Street and Illinois Avenue late last week in connection with a warrant issued by St. Clair County, alleging driving under the influence of alcohol, and a Granite City warrant alleging criminal damage to property.

Electricity.
It's the Power of Choice.

"Some people say electric heat pumps don't work in this climate. Nonsense."

The best recommendation for an electric heat pump comes from the people who own one. A heat pump works just fine, winter and summer. It's quiet, efficient and saves money.

As a heating system, an electric heat pump is the only type that actually provides more energy than it consumes. It does this by accumulating natural warmth from the outdoor air, even in cold weather, and then circulating that heat throughout your home. Because of this, an electric heat pump is the most energy-efficient system you can buy. That means real economy.

But that's only half the story. In the summer, a heat pump becomes a high efficiency central air conditioner. It removes the heat and humidity from inside the house and pumps it outdoors. You get year 'round comfort with year 'round energy savings.

Is it any wonder that more and more smart families have chosen an electric heat pump?

The Residential Marketing Advisor at Illinois Power Company is an energy expert who can give you all the details about the remarkable heat pump. We know a good thing when we see it, and we'll be happy to share that information with you. No charge or obligation of course.

'Godspell' is presented at SIUE University Theater

"Godspell," a musical celebration of the Gospel of St. Matthew, will be a Christmas season presentation of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Theater.

The production, with music and lyrics by Stephen Schwartz, will open in the Communications Building theater on the Edwardsville Campus at 8:15 p.m. tonight, with additional performances at the same time on Nov. 30 and Dec. 1. The show will close with a Sunday evening curtain at 7 o'clock on Dec. 2.

THE WORK HAS a strong professional history, successful both on the stage and as a film. It appeals to audiences of all age groups.

The SIUE production is a cooperative venture, bringing together the resources of the University Theater and the friends of the University Theater and Dance, the SIUE program's support group. All proceeds will go to the department of theater and dance Student Scholarship and Award Fund.

John Cange, of Belleville, will play Jesus, the principal role, along with John Ives, Cuba, Mo., in two roles, both John and Judas. Other principals are Monica Dickens, Florissant, Mo., as Sonia, and Karen Wade, St. Louis, as Filmer.

THE CAST ALSO includes: Kathryn McCarty, Benton, as Robin; Keith Shaw, Centralia, as Lamar; Vernice Weber, Highland, as Joanne; Cheri Muschany, St. Louis, as Peggy; Dennis Felthauer as Jeffrey and John Leonard as Herb, both of Edwardsville.

State direction is by Harry Kunkke, of the faculty of the St. Louis Visual and Performing Arts High School, with choreography by Marti Czarinski, head of the performance program at Hazelwood East High School. Boll are members of the board of directors of the friends. The musical director is Brad Hofeditz.

The sets are designed by Pamela L. Parker, lights by Mark T. Goeke, and costumes by Keith Shaw. Radawna Michelle is the assistant director, and Michael Mizerany is the stage manager.

FREE PARKING is available behind the Communications Building. For ticket information and reservations call 1-692-2773.

GETTING TOGETHER FOR 'GODSPELL'. The full cast of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville University Theater production of "Godspell." is shown in the number "The Parable of the Sower" seated, Bernice Weber and John Leonard; standing, Cheri Muschany, John Cange, Don Ives, Renee Pie, Dennis Felthauer, Monica Dickens, Kathryn McCarty and Keith Shaw. ### BAC offers welding course this spring

Bellevue Area College will offer a course this spring to prepare students for the American Welding Society Inspector Qualification and Certification exam.

The course, which is for those who are studying welding and those working as welding inspectors, will teach skills needed for qualification and certification as a Certified Welding Inspector. These skills will help students in their current jobs and in gaining employment.

THE DUTIES and responsibilities of certified inspectors will be reviewed and a series of tests given to help students evaluate their progress. The class will be taught on the American Welding Society D1.1-82 Structural Welding Code-Steel.

Among former students who have qualified to take the AWS test, an average of 80 percent have passed.

The class will meet from 9 a.m. to 1:10 p.m. Saturdays, for 10 weeks beginning Jan. 19. The class will end approximately one week before the certification test is given in this area.

For information, students may call Garner Kimbrell, coordinator of the welding program, 1-255-2700, extension 252. Registration is under way. Early enrollment is advised.

Madrigal Dinner conducted

Area residents are invited to dine on traditional English food and listen to the melodies of a madrigal group at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, Dec. 7 and 8.

The sixth annual Madrigal Dinner Concert, which is sponsored by the University Center, will begin at 7 p.m. in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center. Dinner tickets are $12 per person.

MADRIGALS ARE songs performed by small groups of singers. Each song combines several independent voice parts, creating a melodically and rhythmically unique music. The O'Fallon Township High School music department will present the program.

The ballroom will be transformed into a 16th Century castle to complement the pageantry and tradition of the performance. During the program, singers, musicians, court jesters, and an array of "lords and ladies" will court the audience with selections from English, Flemish and Italian madrigal schools.

As the Renaissance-type meal progresses, performers will sing songs especially adapted to the various stages of the dinner. The program will end with the audience and performers joining in singing traditional Christmas carols.

THE MENU will include the wassail bowl, fresh cranberry salad, roast beef au jus, Yorkshire pudding, Madrigal vegetable medley, Lancashire bread and flaming Christmas pudding with brandy sauce.

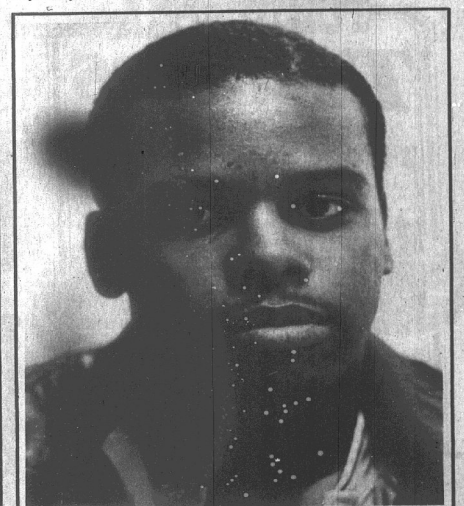

Tickets or additional information may be obtained by contacting the Union Station ticket office at 1-692-2320.

Workshop helps family ties

A non-credit workshop designed to strengthen ways that family members relate to one another will be offered Saturday, Dec. 1, by the Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The workshop is intended for adult and teenage family members and those who work with families. The course will emphasize ways to bring the family closer together, make commitments, resolve conflict and accept responsibility. Dennis Butts and W. Hank Hayes, both counselors from Belleville, will conduct the seminar.

WORKSHOP participants will meet in Room 2207 of Classroom Building Two from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The cost for the workshop is $15 for individuals and $25 per family. The fee does not include lunch.

Added funds for food and shelter

Madison County is to receive $146,517 to supplement emergency food and shelter. The county was chosen by a national board made up of voluntary organizations and chaired by the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

The board was asked to distribute $70 million appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-needs areas.

A local board created this month has members from the Granite City and Alton units of the Salvation Army, plus Catholic Charities, Protestant Welfare, Alton Red Cross and the Madison County Board.

It has submitted a fund distribution plan to Washington, D.C., for approval.

The plan calls for 10 agencies in Madison County to get part of the allocation and use the money for food and shelter assistance. Receipt of the funds is projected for Dec. 31.

Selecting toys safe for children

By THOMAS KIRKPATRICK
Acting Director
Ill. Public Health Department

For many people, Christmas gift shopping really gets serious about now. They may find that the biggest hazard in buying gifts is selecting safe toys for children.

Although there are fewer and fewer hazardous toys on the market each year, the largest number of consumer complaints to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission relate to hazardous toys. So it is up to the buyer to use some judgment when choosing toys.

We often buy toys that appeal to us rather than ones that are appropriate for the child. An electric toy that might be safe for one eight-year-old child might be a hazardous toy in the hands of another.

Most toys are labeled to indicate the age group for which the toy was designed—that is, "For four to seven years" or "For eight to 12 years."

The Illinois Department of Public Health recommends that this information be used as a guide, remembering that the particular toy may not be suitable for all children in that age bracket.

Keep in mind the particular child who is going to play with it. Younger children in the family should also be considered. Think about how much adult supervision may be required.

There are guidelines to remember when choosing the ideal toy for a very young child. Any toy for an infant or toddler should have smooth, round edges; no exposed pins, wires or nails; no detachable parts that could be swallowed or stuck in an ear or nostril; and no darts, arrows or missiles with sharp points.

Toys for small children should not be made of glass or brittle plastic. Stuffed animals, a perennial favorite toy, should not have sharp wires in the ears, tails or body that can poke through the material and injure a child.

They should not have a nose, mouth, eyes or buttons that can be pulled off and put in the child's mouth—because that's where an infant will put them. Always inspect these items carefully before giving them to a small child to play with.

Electrical toys, such as toy ovens and trains, should never be given to a child under eight. They can come in contact with water and short out, and they sometimes overheat.

There are also some hobby suppliers, such as kilns or wood-burning kits, which reach very high temperatures and should not be used by children under 12.

No matter how cute or clever a toy is, before buying it, consider these two questions: "Is the toy appropriate to the child's age?" "Is it a well-designed, safe toy?" This should help prevent injuries.

If a reader has further questions about safe toys, he or she may contact the Illinois Department of Public Health, Division of Engineering and Sanitation, 535 W. Jefferson St., Springfield, Ill. 62761.

Teachers sought for conservation awards

Nominations are being accepted for the national "Conservation Teacher-of-the-Year" awards program. The program is open to all full-time teachers working at the kindergarten through high school level who have developed an outstanding program of conservation education.

The National Conservation Teacher-of-the-Year will receive $1,000 in cash and an expense paid trip to Nashville, Tenn., for the annual convention of the National Association of Conservation Districts. The national second place winner will receive $500 cash and the first place regional winner will receive $200.

The purpose of the awards program is to encourage the development of creative learning experiences in conservation for young people. Interested teachers may obtain additional information and nomination forms from the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Eagles initiate new members

Eagles Aerie 1126 held an initiation ceremony for George W. Williams, Vernon Johnson, Leslie D. Whittington, Victor H. Neese, and John J. VonNida Sr., candidates for membership in the Eagles Home, located at 2558 Madison Ave.

Members of the interviewing committee for the group were Pat McKinney, Lou Tourse and Don Horn, and the initiating team included Randy H. Odum, Harold R. Love, Bill Hemken, Bud Shaffer, Bob Stanton and Mel Havron.

President Harold Love presided at the session and Richard Wilbur, conductor, led the members in reciting the Pledge of Allegiance to the American Flag, followed by the presentation of the Bible and Eagle by Wilbur.

The opening prayer was offered by Bud Shaffer, followed by the roll call of officers, by John Aubushon, which included Harold Love, president, Randy Odum, past president, Larry W. Barnhart, pro-tem, Bill Hemken, vice president, Bud Shaffer, chaplain, Richard Wilbur, conductor, Mel Havron, inside guard, John Turner, pro-tem, Don Gray Sr., treasurer, Chris VonNida, 1-year trustee, Larry Paton Sr., 2-year trustee, and Greg McCall, 3-year trustee on Nov. 3. These 50 tickets were then given by the interviewing committee, John Aubushon, secretary, and Greg McCall, trustee.

Under communications, Love read a letter from Helen A. Platz, President of The Society of American Magicians, Assembly No. 8 of St. Louis, which stated:

"On behalf of the Society of American Magicians, Assembly No. 8, I would like to thank you for your generosity in purchasing 50 tickets, a total of $150, to the Fall Festival of Magic on Nov. 3. These 50 tickets were donated to the Tri-City Association of Mentally Retarded. Your group along with other merchants made it possible for over 100 people to attend our magic show."

Bud Shaffer, chaplain and president of the Southwest Illinois Rye's Syndrome Chapter, gave a report on the Rye's Syndrome Benefit Dance that was recently held at the Eagles Home.

Shaffer said, "I had announced at the dance that the event was a huge success with a profit of $1,115 for Rye's Syndrome. For some who couldn't attend the dance, I would like to tell you that after announcing what we had cleared, I got a wonderful surprise when our president, Harold Love, and vice president, Larry Barnhart called me back to the microphone and explained that they had another donation in the form of a $2000 grant check from the 'Jimmy Durante Children's Fund' from the Grand Aerie Fraternal Order of Eagles in Milwaukee.

Love explained that correspondence between the club and Kate Ehrmann, executive secretary to Michael T. Garfney, director of the 'Jimmy Durante Children's Fund' had resulted in the $2000 check for Rye's Syndrome."

Love announced that the date for the District 7 meeting to be held at Shiloh Aerie #545 has been changed to Dec. 16. The closing ceremony was conducted by Randy Odum, Bud Shaffer and Bill Hemken.

Dr. David Berland Berland speaks on communication

"Communicating With Your Adolescent," was the topic of this month's community seminar at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The guest speaker was Dr. David Berland, medical consultant for St. Elizabeth's new Adolescent Psychiatry Unit, which opened in September. Dr. Berland also is the director of Child Psychiatry at St. Louis University.

"The tasks of adolescents are to learn survival skills and to begin separating from the family," Dr. Berland told the audience of parents, teachers and counselors. "They are trying to build a personal identity, at a time when they are going through tremendous biological, social and intellectual changes. But, in spite of this," he added, "most teenagers have earned to deal with their feelings and are not experiencing terrible turmoil."

He stressed that a good listener can be most helpful to the adolescent during this period. "But," he reminded the audience, "a good listener listens with respect. They do not take over the problem or judge."

Dr. Berland suggested that outside help might be needed when communication breaks down, and the goals of adolescents are abandoned. The school counselor, clergyman or family physician would be an appropriate first step in seeking help. If problems are of a more serious nature, a local mental health clinic or unit like the one at St. Elizabeth's could be called to make an evaluation of the situation.

St. Elizabeth's Adolescent Psychiatry Unit is a 12-bed inpatient facility designed for children from 12 to 17 years of age who are experiencing emotional or behavioral problems.

For more information about the unit, interested persons may call James Gallagher, director of Mental Health Services at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, at 798-3604.

Deadline nears for traffic essay contest

Only a few weeks remain for Illinois high school seniors to submit entries in the 1984 traffic safety essay contest sponsored by the Illinois Editors' Traffic Safety Seminar.

Entries must be submitted by the Dec. 31 deadline in order to compete for the 10 $500 scholarship grants being made available to the winners—five young men and five young women—by the AAA-Chicago Motor Club.

The theme of this year's essay contest is "Should the Use of Seat Belts be Mandatory in Illinois?" The contest is open to all Illinois high school seniors in public, parochial and private schools.

Entry blanks or facsimiles must accompany all entries. Entry blanks are available at schools, AAA-Chicago Motor Club offices or by mail from Seminar Headquarters, 66 E. South Water St., Chicago, Ill. 60601.

Essays must be received at Seminar Headquarters postmarked no later than Dec. 31. Final judging will be by a panel of judges, AAA-Chicago Motor Club, of Illinois educators. Scholarship awards will be presented at the Seminar Honors Luncheon in Urbana next May.

TWO-CAR CRASH RESULTS IN INJURY TO ONE DRIVER

Patricia J. Retz, 24, of 77 Kaseberg Lane, Pontoon Beach, was injured recently, when her car was involved in an accident at the intersection of Pontoon and Maryville roads.

The driver of the other car, Cletis Boker, 64, of 3803 Fair Oaks Drive, was not injured.

Miss Retz's car was eastbound on Pontoon Road, stopped at its intersection with Maryville Road. As the light turned green, Miss Retz's car began to move forward and Boker's car collided with the rear of her car.

STRONG SHOWING. Granite City High School debaters earned a record of seven wins and three losses to place third of 26 schools at the Illinois State University debate tournament in Bloomington, Ill., this month. Jema Gonzales was the second place speaker among 104 in the tournament. Debaters, from the left, are Laura Jansen, Kathy Carter, Jema Gonzales and Cynthia Simons.

At Shelter, we recommend that customers insure their home with our New Platinum Shield Policy. It's very simple. Shelter will replace any item, including your home, of a cost which includes protection against inflation. That's just one of the many ways in which we can help you protect your best asset. Because of Shelter's personal service is a major part of our policy.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LOREN E. WORTHEN
SR., Dec. 1, 1979. Time goes on, five years have passed, since death it's gloomy, dark shadow cast, within our home where all seemed bright, and took from us, our shining light. We miss that light and ever will, the vac-cant place where none can fill. Down here we mourn, but not in vain, for up in heaven, we will meet again.
- Sadly missed by entire Family. 32-11 29

Fabric Store to move after 20 years in Nameoki Village

For 20 years, The Fabric Store has been serving area customers from its location at 5 Nameoki Village Shopping Center. But with the shopping center under new ownership, some things are bound to change, and one of those changing things is the location of The Fabric Store.

The Fabric Store owner, Larry Tessler, says he is just as surprised about the move as the public may be. He explains that the decision to move came after he considered several options offered by the shopping center owners.

THE STORY behind the move begins, Tessler relates, with the expiration of his lease on Aug. 31. "There were several empty spots in the shopping center. We figured there'd be no problem renegotiating the lease because we're a good tenant... we'd been a good tenant for 20 years. We kept wondering why we had not heard from the landlord."

The reason why, Tessler learned later, was because the shopping center had been sold. On Aug. 14, he says, the new landlords came to him and informed him that the Nameoki Village Shopping Center had been purchased on Aug. 1 by Mall Land Trust of Belleville.

At that meeting, the representatives for the owners told Tessler that his space had been leased to Bonanza Steakhouse.

BONANZA HAS leased the current Granite City Branch Library space of 2,600 square feet and the 1,500 square feet belonging to The Fabric Store.

"It was a shock to us," Tessler said. "They said it had been done previous to the sale by the prior owner."

Tessler said he was given notice to vacate the premises by the end of August, but the new owners indicated that they would try to relocate The Fabric Store to another space within the shopping center. In addition, the new owners offered to amend Tessler's lease to allow him time to find a new space for his store.

AFTER THAT, Tessler says, the owners approached him with four different options. "They presented us with an option, and we thought about it. Then, before a decision was made, they came back and said that option was out and gave us another option."

The owners told Tessler the previous options were discarded because leases were negotiated with other tenants.

Finally, Tessler relates, the owners presented an option in mid-October which would allow Tessler to lease space where The Swamp, a pet store, was located in the shopping center.

"WE WEREN'T very pleased with that option," he commented. "The location is hidden from the main flow of traffic. We left that option open but began looking for other locations within the area, because business has been profitable in this area."

That led Tessler to discussions with the owners of Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center. Negotiations with them landed Tessler a space formerly occupied by Renaissance Fitness Center next to the new Swamp.

The move, Tessler hopes, will be made "as soon as possible. The space we're moving into needs to be renovated. We're finding out that it cannot be done overnight. It may take longer than the owners of Nameoki Village are willing to allow us."

HE ALSO HOPES that the moving process won't close him down. "We plan to make the move in one day. We'll try our best to avoid that most extreme possibility. Being closed any more than one day would be detrimental to business."

Tessler is optimistic about his new location. He says the amount of space at the new location is "practically identical" to the space he currently occupies.

But until the move, a moving sale at the present location will continue, he adds.

"I DO FEEL, had we known about our space being leased as soon as it occurred, we would have had ample time to relocate and avoid the problems we now face," Tessler remarked. "I only hope that this shopping center (Nameoki Village) turns into a first-class shopping center. That would only mean more people coming into this area."

"I think the move for us is going to be good. I am going to be in what appears to be a very active shopping area," he concluded.

LARGE WINDOW BROKEN

Robert E. Navolt, 39, of 2204 Hodges Ave., was charged with criminal damage to property at 8:45 p.m. Monday, after he allegedly fell into and broke a plate glass window at Swiss Farms Delicatessen, 1320 Nineteenth St.

Seeks carolers for neighborhood visits

A concerted effort to recruit individuals and groups to sing Christmas carols in their own neighborhoods is announced this week by the St. Louis Carolers Association, a non-profit group.

Dick Oliver of Granite City, a member of the St. Louis-based association, is heading the drive in the Illinois area.

The local resident also is seeking carolers in Collinsville and Belleville, along with other area communities.

For the third consecutive year, three caroling groups will visit homes in the Granite City area, but more people are needed to bring the cheerful Christmas songs to other neighborhoods, Oliver said.

Songbooks and canisters are provided by the association. All contributions collected by the carolers are donated to various children's organizations, he explained.

Adults and young people are being invited to join the program, either as individuals or as part of a group effort, and may contact Oliver at 877-2741 after 5 p.m. for further information.

Oliver, executive vice president of Singer and Associates, a St. Louis food brokerage firm, said the St. Louis Carolers Association has been an active part of the Christmas scene for the past 40 years.

Dr. William Danforth, chancellor of Washington University, heads the association.

Two armed robbers take $200 cash

Dola Buettner, an employee of The Party Shop, 509 Maryville Road, told police last week, that she was robbed by two black men carrying pistols.

Mrs. Buettner said she was sitting behind the counter, when the two men entered. The men were wearing hooded gray sweatshirts and held their heads down.

She said one of the men went towards the cooler and the other went towards the cash register.

The cash register and the man standing there knocked her to the ground. Then the man standing by the cooler, came around behind the counter and held a gun to her head.

She opened the cash register after the suspects made several unsuccessful attempts to do so themselves.

The robbers took $200 in currency and $20 in food stamps from the register. They also took Mrs. Buettner's purse.

Mrs. Buettner told police that she was unharmed physically, but was emotionally upset.

REMOVE TAPE DECK

An AM-FM radio-tape deck valued at $223 and 13 tapes worth $100 were stolen from the parked stationwagon of Linda Skokio, 2500 State St., last week.

Allen, Garrett, others to be sworn in Monday

With the Madison County government's new fiscal year starting Dec. 1, newly elected and re-elected officials will begin their terms on Monday morning, Dec. 3.

Oaths of office will be administered to Richard Allen of Granite City, new state's attorney, and to re-elected officials, Circuit Clerk Willard Portell; County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields, Recorder of Deeds Ronald Lucas and Mrs. Dallas Burke, coroner.

County Board members participating in swearing-in ceremonies will include Donald Garrett of Madison, a new member, and Herbert Milton Jr. of Granite City and Frank Dutko of Madison, both re-elected.

William E. Johnson is to begin a new term as a circuit judge.

State and national officials will start their elective terms in January. They include President Ronald Reagan, Vice President George Bush, U.S. Senator Paul Simon, Congressman Melvin Price and State Representative Sam Wolf.

When the Madison County Board convenes Monday, Chairman Nelson Hagnauer will seek re-election by the 20-member legislative body.

Committees for the next two years are to be appointed. There are 26 Democrats and three Republicans on the board.

All of the new terms are for four years except those of Price, Wolf and Hagnauer, two years each, and Simon and Johnson, six years each.
